Jobless Rate Is Lowest

. . . SINCE 1957

Washington (AP)—The government reported Thursday a record of nearly 75 million Americans were at work in July, including a big rise in teen-age jobholders that cut the nation's unemployment rate to 4.5%.

A 1.6-million jump in teenage employment disproved springtime predictions of a summer crisis among jobless youths, a Labor Department spokesman said.

Negro Rate Up

But a rise in Negro unemployment was a flaw in the generally bright job picture, he added.

The over-all jobless rate of 4.5% of the labor force was the lowest since October 1957 and down from 4.7% in June.

Robert Stein, chief job statistician for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the rise in nonwhite unemployment from 8.4 to 9.1% might be only a temporary trend.

But he added that unemployment among nonwhites, which had been about double the rate for white workers, was 80% higher the last three months.

Johnson Pleased

President Johnson issued a statement saying he is extremely pleased about the reduced unemployment rate. He said brighter spots in the job picture "give us confidence and determination to seek further reductions in our national unemployment rate."

The President said unemployment still is far too high among teen-agers and among nonwhites.

Although teen-agers continued to pour into the labor market—with a rise of 1.1 million in June—the big gain in employment cut their jobless rate from 14.1 to 13.2%.

Total employment rose 1.1 million from June, more than 650,000 above the usual July rise. Total unemployment at 3.6 million was down 700,000—about 150,000 lower than expected

Biggest Since 1959

In the past year, total employment rose 2.4 million for the biggest annual increase since the 1959 recovery period.

Stein said it is difficult to say whether Johnson's campaign to create summer jobs for teen-agers caused the big jump in youth employment. But he said the July figures belied earlier warnings of mass youth unemployment as an additional 2 million youngsters sought work during the summer school vacation.

The July figures showed 3.5 million teen-agers at work and 1.3 million unemployed. The teen-age jobless total was down 500,000 from June.

2.3% For Married Men

Jobless rates for adult men, married men and adult women all edged down. The men's rates—3.1% for all adult males and 2.3% for married men—were equal to the lowest peacetime levels since the Korean War.

The women's jobless rate, after a sharp rise to 4.8% in June, dropped back to 4.3%—substantially lower than a year ago.

The civilian labor force rose 450,000 to 78.5 million, bucking a usual downward seasonal trend. Compared with a year earlier, the labor force was 2.2 million higher—half of it among teenagers.

Lincoln Youths Skating For Dream, Challenge

By RICHARD BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

A group of northeast Lincoln youths began Thursday fulfilling the dream of their convalescing buddy and at the same time aimed a challenge at Southern California.

The dream belongs to Jim Hohenstein, 16, of 3430 No. 66th, explains Scott Pettit, Jim's 16-year-old sidekick.

The idea was to beat kids in Southern California to a fad, Scott said.

"So Jim came up with the idea of a 24-hour skateboard marathon."

They originally planned the venture for early summer but Jim became ill and the project was sidetracked.

Scott and two other boys—Gary Talbott, 10, of 3521 No. 66th, and Larry Gilsdorf, 17, of 3645 No. 66th—chalked off a 100-yard stretch beginning in front of Jim's home and dropped the checkered flag at 8:10 a.m.

By 3:45 p.m. Thursday, six of the local lads had whizzed over the course some 236 times—about 13 miles.

They averaged 10 miles during the first six hours.

Using the 10-miles in six hours formula, Scott predicted a total goal of 40 miles during the 24-hour period.

A group of neighborhood girls supplied back-up services such as posting a running score on a blackboard, fetching water and soft drinks and yelling encouragement.

Near midnight someone in the neighborhood not agreeing with the planned marathon, called the police to quiet the skatboarding youths.

The patrolman told them to move to the Gateway Shopping Center area so the disturbance would be eliminated, which they did.

At last report early in the morning, the marathon continued with several youth joining Scott who has pledged to reach the goal.

Raids Go On; U.S. Forms New Command Structure

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. and South Vietnamese planes fueled up and maintained raids on Communist targets as usual Thursday, writing off losses in a Viet Cong attack on a big aviation fuel dump near the Da Nang Air Base.

An American military spokesman said the hit-and-run guerrilla operation against harbor-side tank facilities operated by Esso Standard East (ESE) will have no serious effect on the air strikes.

On the heels of the Da Nang incident, the United States announced the formation of a new military command structure to control all U.S. Army and Marine ground combat forces over a 400-mile-long strip of South Viet Nam from the central highlands to the Mekong Delta.

2nd, 3rd Corps Areas

Though there is no provision for joint command, the territory covers the Vietnamese army's 2nd and 3rd Corps areas.

The new structure is called Task Force Alpha. Headquarters will be on the South China Sea at Nha Trang, 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

Maj. Gen. Stanley L. Larsen, formerly deputy chief of staff for operations at headquarters of the U.S. Army in Europe, will head the command. The aim is to expedite and coordinate the operations of U.S. troops in support of South Viet Nam's war effort.

In the Viet Cong raid, two of ESE's nine tanks were destroyed, two were damaged and fuel estimated to total a million gallons was lost. In addition, a railway engine exploded a Viet Cong mine Thursday and was rerailed on tracks linking the oil storage area with the base.

Dumps On Base

But large fuel dumps are located on the base itself and the spokesman said it was believed they contain enough to fulfill immediate needs.

Tankers ferry millions of gallons to Da Nang and other bases to keep the jets, propeller planes and helicopters flying. The demand is high. Standard tanks of a single U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief take about 1,200 gallons.

The U.S. 7th Fleet has its own refueling facilities and Navy planes made the day's biggest strike north of the border. This was an attack by 16 Skyhawks and 10 Phantoms from the carrier Midway on the Vinh army barracks, 160 miles south of Hanoi.

LBJ To Sign Voting Rights Bill At Capitol

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson will go to Capitol Hill Friday to sign the landmark voting rights bill. He was assured Thursday the government would act almost immediately to enforce its guarantees for thousands of Southern Negroes.

Reviving a presidential custom neglected since the Hoover administration, Johnson will sign the measure at about 10:30 p.m. CST in the small, historic President's Room adjoining the Senate chamber.

The room was used on Aug. 6, 1861 — 104 years ago to the day — by President Abraham Lincoln to sign several bills, including one that freed Negro slaves impressed to work for Confederate forces in the Civil War.

Lincoln's action was a prelude to his signing on Jan. 2, 1863, of the Emancipation Proclamation freeing all the nation's slaves.

A few moments earlier, flanked by congressional leaders of both parties, he will speak to the nation by radio and television from the Capitol Rotunda. He was expected to discuss the bill and the promise it holds for greater racial equality.

PAPER FIRE . . .

Breeze, Firemen Cut Loss

By WAYNE KREUSCHER
Star Staff Writer

A southwest wind and quick action by firemen contained a possible million dollar fire Thursday night

The two-alarm fire at Great Plains Container Corporation, 6600 Fletcher, broke out about 5:30 p.m. and quickly engulfed the bailing section of a loading dock where tons of paper were stored.

Firemen, with assistance from the wind, which carried flames away from the structure, poured fire-hydron retardant chemicals onto the flames.

Restricted Flames

They were able to restrict the fire to the dock area, a few feet from the main building.

James Duffey, plant general manager, said that as far as he knew there was a total loss to all 986 two-ton rolls of craft paper located on the dock.

"It was lucky," Duffey said, "that the wind was blowing away from the building or the whole place would have gone up in flames."

Seen Quickly

He also said it was lucky that an employe saw the fire when he did so that the fire department could be called before the blaze spread too far.

No exact estimate could be made of the loss because the plant president, E. J. Loutzenheiser was out of town, but the loss of the paper and damage to the dock and some equipment is expected to come close to a quarter of a million dollars.

Marvin Douda, general sales manager, estimated the loss at $200,000.

Little Damage

Lincoln Fire Chief Roscoe Benton said the building itself suffered little, if any, damage.

Firemen said the fire started in a bailer near the dock. Apparently, they said, a spark was caused in the machine and caught scrap paper afire in a hopper on the roof.

Douda said plant employes tried to extinguish the fire, but a spark blew over into the bales of corrugated cardboard paper and the fire soon spread.

Douda said the plant, which manufactures corrugated shipping containers, folding cartons, and electronic tabulating cards, would be able to resume operations sometime next week.

Intangible Tax Addition Buried By Legislature

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Thursday buried a bill which would have extended the four-mill Class B intangible property tax to cover stock in domestic and foreign domesticated corporations.

The bill, LB30, went down on a crushing 35-3 vote on a kill motion submitted by Sens. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha and Albert Kjar of Lexington.

Once that was accomplished, a companion bill, LB78, reducing the Class A intangible property tax rate from 2.5 mills to one-tenth of a mill, was axed on a 34-0 vote.

Absent

Both bills were sponsored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who was absent due to the death of his mother.

However, Carpenter informed Speaker Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud that he would not object to consideration of the two measures on select file while he was gone if the Unicameral ran out of other business.

The four-mill Class B rate is now applied only against stock held in foreign corporations. A series of deductions applied to stock in other corporations renders their stock tax-exempt.

The Class A rate is applied against money.

Cleared After Tie

LB30 cleared general file last month when Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen cracked a 21-21 tie vote.

In its amended form, the bill had offered a broadened intangible tax rate as an alternative to the state income tax if the latter were voided by the electorate in a 1966 referendum vote.

Carpenter had estimated that the bill would raise an additional $20 million to $30 million a biennium, all of which would be allocated to the state.

Hurt Economy

Pedersen said the measure would have damaged the economy by "keeping companies from coming to Nebraska" and stunting the growth of those that are already here.

It would drive investment dollars from the state, he said.

Kjar said the bill represents "the clearest cut case of double taxation possible."

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha contended that LB30 would drive corporations out of Nebraska.

Bowen announced that he had considered offering an amendment to the bill which would have repealed LB797, the state income tax law, if LB30 were to become law. But, he said he would not attempt to do so.

Carpenter told him, he said, that the bill represents the 1965 Legislature's "last chance" to raise additional revenue.

Only senators voting not to kill were Richard Lysinger of Ravenna, Elmer Wallwey of Emerson and Ramey Whitney of Chappell.

Retired Teachers Receive 'Bonanza'

. . . 'MISTAKE' IN BILL

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature unwittingly approved Thursday monthly pensions of $945 for an estimated 830 retired Nebraska school teachers with 35 years' service.

This bonanza is contained in one word of LB229 increasing retirement benefits for teachers who retired prior to 1955 when teachers became eligible for Social Security.

The amended bill, approved by a 28-7 vote, started out as a measure to increase state retirement benefits for all teachers.

Amended

However, it was amended to increase the pension rate only for those teachers who retired before Jan. 1, 1955 and are not eligible for Social Security.

The amended bill apparently intended to increase the pension rate to $2.25 per month for each "year" of service, but the bill's official wording on final reading states "$2.25 per month for each month (instead of year) of service."

State Retirement Systems Director Glenn I. Anderson told The Star that a teacher with 35 years of service and retired before 1955 would get $945 per month retirement payments

Sharp Contrast

This is in contrast to the Legislature's apparent intent to increase the monthly benefit to a maximum of $78.75.

"When I read LB229 in its final form, I couldn't decide whether to laugh or cry," Anderson said. "It would be funny except the bill could bankrupt the pension fund."

Anderson said the Legislators appear "to prefer to pay for advice on retirement" and have "disregarded" information and data furnished by his office.

Told To Keep Away

"I have paid little attention to legislative bills because we are told to keep away," the veteran official said.

However, Anderson said he had intended to call the "flaw on this bill" to the senators' attention, but it was enacted before he could reach a "heeding ear."

The bill is headed for a surefire veto by Gov. Frank Morrison unless the Legislature snatches it back for reconsideration.

Told Governor

Anderson said he has advised the governor's office of the bill's final wording and its administrative and financial effects.

The retirement rate for teachers retiring after 1955 remains at $1.50 per month for each year of service.

The bill was sponsored by Sens. John E. Knight, Hal W. Bauer and Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln; Jerome Warner of Waverly and Henry F Pedersen Jr. of Omaha

Jobless Rate Is Lowest

. . . SINCE 1957

Washington (AP)—The government reported Thursday a record of nearly 75 million Americans were at work in July, including a big rise in teen-age jobholders that cut the nation's unemployment rate to 4.5%.

A 1.6-million jump in teenage employment disproved springtime predictions of a summer crisis among jobless youths, a Labor Department spokesman said.

Negro Rate Up

But a rise in Negro unemployment was a flaw in the generally bright job picture, he added.

The over-all jobless rate of 4.5% of the labor force was the lowest since October 1957 and down from 4.7% in June,

Robert Stein, chief job statistician for the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the rise in nonwhite unemployment from 8.4 to 9.1% might be only a temporary trend.

But he added that unemployment among nonwhites, which had been about double the rate for white workers, was 80% higher the last three months.

Johnson Pleased

President Johnson issued a statement saying he is extremely pleased about the reduced unemployment rate. He said brighter spots in the job picture "give us confidence and determination to seek further reductions in our national unemployment rate."

The President said unemployment still is far too high among teen-agers and among nonwhites.

Although teen-agers continued to pour into the labor market—with a rise of 1.1 million in June—the big gain in employment cut their jobless rate from 14.1 to 13.2%.

Total employment rose 1.1 million from June, more than 650,000 above the usual July rise. Total unemployment at 3.6 million was down 700,000—about 150,000 lower than expected.

Biggest Since 1959

In the past year, total employment rose 2.4 million for the biggest annual increase since the 1959 recovery period.

Stein said it is difficult to say whether Johnson's campaign to create summer jobs for teen-agers caused the big jump in youth employment. But he said the July figures belied earlier warnings of mass youth unemployment as an additional 2 million youngsters sought work during the summer school vacation.

The July figures showed 3.5 million teen-agers at work and 1.3 million unemployed. The teen-age jobless total was down 500,000 from June.

2.3% For Married Men

Jobless rates for adult men, married men and adult women all edged down. The men's rates—3.1% for all adult males and 2.3% for married men—were equal to the lowest peacetime levels since the Korean War.

The women's jobless rate, after a sharp rise to 4.8% in June, dropped back to 4.3% —substantially lower than a year ago.

The civilian labor force rose 450,000 to 78.5 million, bucking a usual downward seasonal trend. Compared with a year earlier, the labor force was 2.2 million higher—half of it among teenagers.

Lower Gas Price, Refund In Store

Washington (AP) — Consumers in 13 states using natural gas originating in the Permian Basin of New Mexico and Texas stand to get refunds and lower rates as a result of the rate decision Thursday by the Federal Power Commission

And FPC spokesmen said that the pattern spelled out in the Permian Basin area producer rate case ultimately could mean refunds and lower rates generally for natural gas users.

But there were no estimates as to just how much it might mean ultimately to individual consumers

Two Prices

The FPC set a 16.5 cent per thousand cubic feet ceiling on new gas-well gas which is found separately from oil. For all other gas, including oil well and residue gas, it set a ceiling of 14.5 cents. The ceilings [illegible] es which amount to about one cent for gas produced in Texas and less for that produced in the New Mexico part of the Permian Basin area

H A. True Jr., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, denounced the ruling as "an example of government by administrative fiat, replete with uncertainty and caprice "

"This decision," True's statement said "demonstrates that the natural gas producer and consumer are now under dictatorship government "

Up To 20 Cents

Prices now in effect subject to refund range up to 20 cents with many contracts providing around 17 or 18 cents a spokesman said The lowest prices now effective are 4 cents, and under the de-[illegible] go up to 9 cents

Spokesmen estimating that the new Permian Basin ceilings will require refunds of $30 million to $35 million said this was a firm indication that lower rates also are in the offing for consumers served with Permian Basin gas. Gas from the Permian Basin amounts to about 11% of the total gas moving in interstate commerce.

Consumers of Permian Basin gas are located in California, Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas Illinois, Iowa, Kansas Minnesota Nebraska, Oklahoma South Dakota and Wisconsin Eighty-five per cent of the gas moved interstate from the basin goes to California

Northern Natural Gas

Three interstate pipeline companies move virtually all the Permian Basin production that goes into interstate commerce. They are El Paso Natural Gas Co., El Paso Tex 73% Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, Neb., 18% and Trans Western Pipeline Co, Houston 9%

The decision will have no direct effect immediately on any other major gas producing areas. Proceedings are under way, however, in three other area rate cases. These three, plus Permian, are estimated by the commission to cover 75% of all gas sold into interstate commerce.

The commission has no authority over retail gas rates but has established procedures designed to require that refunds and benefits of lower rates received by interstate pipeline companies are flowed-through, as they phrase it to their utility customers

Most Passed On

A survey recently showed that nationally between two-thirds and three-quarters of the refunds to the utility customers were in turn passed on by them to ultimate consumers

The decision also bars any producer rate increases above the newly established ceilings until Jan. 1, 1968, providing relative price stability for that long.

The price of natural gas to pipelines advanced steadily from early in the 1950s until the FPC adopted an area pricing policy in 1960. The average was 9.1 cents in 1953 and 16 cents in 1960

A leveling off then became evident, with the average price 16.8 cents at the end of 1963

Memory Transplanted By Injections At UCLA

Los Angeles (AP) — Transplanting of memory from one brain to another by injections was disclosed Thursday by a group of psychologists at the University of California at Los Angeles

The experiment was made with rats but Dr. Allan L. Jacobson said, "We can certainly imagine that benefits might result for humans in the long run."

Jacobson assistant professor of psychology said the transplanted substance was ribonucleic acid (RNA) long suspected to be involved in the memory process

The RNA molecule is similar to that of deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) the molecule that carries hereditary blueprints from one generation to the next Current theory is that RNA may encode memory much as DNA encodes genetic information

Jacobson and his associates trained rats to go to a food cup when a certain click was sounded. They extracted RNA from the brains of the trained rats and injected it into the bodies of untrained rats. The injected rats showed a "significant tendency" — 7 times out of 25 — to go to the cup when a click sounded, without previous training, Jacobson said. A control group of uninjected rats responded in this manner only one time in 25 tries, he said

Similar responses resulted when a flashing light was used instead of a click

Jacobson said in an interview, "I don't want to make any wild speculation about the possibility of using this to facilitate learning in humans But it does seem reasonable that the memory process is the same in a variety of organisms, including man. It would certainly seem desirable to try it next on monkeys

School Tool?

If it works in humans eventually, would this mean that future generations can get their education by injections from the brains of deceased learned men?

It may not be that easy.

Jacobson pointed out that in his experiment the "injected memory" faded unless it was strengthened by training

Senate Unit OKs Military Pay Boost

Washington (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee approved a $1-billion pay increase Thursday for the military services But it made substantial changes in the pattern of the raise set up in a bill already passed by the House

A combat pay boost also was added by the Senate committee

The senators followed the House lead exactly in voting the largest percentage increases to personnel with less than two years' service but altered the raises for both officers and enlisted men with more than two years experience

In announcing his committee's unanimous action Chairman Richard B Russell D-Ga told reporters that the Senate bill would cost $991 million a year in added funds while the House bill would call for $996 million

No. Vietnamese Division HQ In Neutral Cambodia

Saigon (UPI)—A North Vietnamese army division headquarters has been moved to a remote area of nominally neutral Cambodia, where it can direct troops in South Viet Nam without fear of U.S. air attack, reliable American intelligence sources said Thursday.

The sources said the Communist headquarters now is located about 270 miles north of Saigon, in a roadless Cambodian wilderness populated by primitive tribesmen who have scarcely heard of the Cambodian government.

The division is the 325th and its sanctuary was tracked down by secret radio detection equipment aboard U.S. reconnaissance planes sent aloft when U S military officials lost track of the division

The intelligence sources pointed out that the 325th could have moved its headquarters without the permission or the knowledge of Cambodian authorities The Red division controls three full regiments—about 6,000 troops —now operating in the central highlands of South Viet Nam.

But aerial surveillance planes also have found a North Vietnamese supply base and airfield much deeper inside Cambodia which apparently sends supplies to troops in South Viet Nam.

The base is 50 miles south of division headquarters, at a town called Bo Kheo. Planes from North Viet Nam have been spotted on radar flying to Bo Kheo

Fortas Denies Red Links

Washington (UPI)—Abe Fortas denied Thursday that he had been associated with Communists And he said that if confirmed as a Supreme Court justice his friendship with President Johnson would have no bearing on his decisions

Fortas, Johnson's first nominee to the high court, denied before the Senate Judiciary Committee that he had been "significantly connected with Communists and Communist fronts over a considerable period of time "

When asked by Sen Roman L Hruska R-Neb, if he felt his close relationship with Johnson—in business and in legislative matters—would bias his decisions the 55-year-old Washington attorney replied

I value highly my friendship with the President but there is no way that relationship could enter into my judgment on the court

'Cited' By HUAC

In denying any past Communist ties Fortas replied to testimony by Mrs Marjorie Shearon of suburban Chevy Chase Md She said Fortas once was a member of the National Committee of the International Judicial Association cited as a Communist front by the House Un-American Activities Committee

She told the committee that when Fortas went to work in the Agriculture Department in 1933 the agency had a number of young lawyers who later were exposed as Communists

My testimony," she said must indicate to you that Mr Fortas has been significantly connected with Communists and Communist fronts over a considerable period of time His connections were neither trivial nor casual and I doubt if innocent "

Worked For Taft

Mrs Shearon identified herself as a scientist lecturer, editor and legislative consultant and said she worked for the late Sen Robert A Taft, R-Ohio in the mid-40s She said she represented no group but appeared "in the public interest "

Answering questions by Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., Fortas said, "To the best of my knowledge and belief I never attended a meeting or took part" in activities of the International Judicial Association

The charge, he said had plagued him for years 'Some time in the 1930s when I was a member of the Yale law faculty " Fortas said 'someone may have written and suggested I join (the association) —when it was an easy thing to join—and I may have signed

However he testified, "No one has ever said I attended a meeting or did anything "

Fortas said he had joined the National Lawyers' Guild, but quit when he said it was apparent a left-wing group was taking control.

He said he knew Alger Hiss and had worked with him in the Agriculture Department after he came to Washington in 1933 as "a boy fresh out of Tennessee "

Hruska also asked Forta about charges that he "tried to get suppression of the news of Walter Jenkins last fall "

Jenkins was a White House aide who resigned after it was revealed he had been arrested on morals charges

Fortas said he had asked Washington newspapers to hold up the story "to give us time to check it (arrest report) out and to locate Mrs Jenkins "

Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, asked Fortas if he felt the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote," ruling could be interpreted as requiring reapportionment of the U.S. Senate on a population basis.

After persistently saying he had not studied the matter and preferred not to express an off-hand oinion Fortas replied 'My immediate reaction to this is it would seem to me to be sort of inconceivable to reach such a result . "

Czechs Dedicating Marker

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber—Not that more cause for celebration is needed, but a high point in the heritage of Nebraska Czechs will be noted at their state festival this weekend.

A State Historical Society marker commemorating the centennial of Saline County's first Czech settlement will be erected. Governor Frank Morrison will dedicate the large sign, to be placed at the junction of Highways 41 and 82.

Two Parades

An address by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will highlight the 2:30 p.m. ceremony Sunday. Also participating in that, as well as the parade an hour earlier, will be Rep. Clair Callan and several dozen state senators.

The parade is the second scheduled, the two day affair officially unfolding with another at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Both are expected to attract floats by the score and spectators by the thousands.

"Estimates in other years have ranged up to 40,000 persons for the two days," said Lyle Altman, president of the Nebraska Czechs of Wilber. "With the right weather there's no reason we can't do as well for festival No. 4."

In anticipation, at least 5,000 duck dinners will be awaiting the onslaught of visitors—many from other states. There will also be countless kolaches, plus pivo by bottle and barrel.

A building recently donated to the Czech cause by the Milo Stastnys of Wilber will feature actual demonstrations of kolache-making. Located just across from the new marker, the structure will also be dedicated at the ceremony.

Among other first day highlights is a Sokol exhibition at 1:30 p.m., talent and accordion contests at 3:30 p.m., and beseda dancing at 7 p.m. A new Nebraska Czech queen will be chosen at 8:30 p.m. to succeed Schuyler's Bonita Krula.

Sunday's marker dedication will be followed by motorcycle races, a 3 p.m. concert by the Strategic Air Command band, and 4 p.m. All-Nebraska Czech Spectacular. A Czech pageant at 9 p.m. and free street dance are the last scheduled events.

Bohacek Delighted To Find Wilber Remembering Past

Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Wilber—An attache who came thousands of miles for Nebraska Czech Festival likely will see more old-country color and culture in two days than Prague showed him in two years.

Stuart J. Bohacek, this time a visitor of his hometown after eight years with the Department of State, is astonished already at the brightness which awaits the fourth annual celebration Saturday and Sunday. The Czechoslovakia he just left is too intent on today to give much thought to preserving the customs of yesterday.

"The music emphasis is on the twist rather than polkas, good kolaches are scarce and costumes are seen only in the small villages and only on special occasions," explained the former local publisher. "It's good to see Wilber doing what historically and sociologically needs to be done."

His First Festival

On leave before reporting to Washington for a domestic assignment, Bohacek timed his visit "very deliberately" for his first attendance of the festival. Also anticipating all the ducks and dumplings are his wife and their teenagers, Anne and Bill.

"This generation is trying to remember what the preceeding generation was trying to forget," continued the returnee. "As Americans it behooves us to develop our own culture, remembering of course that our own is an amalgam of world culture."

An alumnus of Doane College and Syracuse University, Bohacek has been working primarily with writers, students and educators in his Prague position. Previously he had completed two tours of duty in Japan with the U.S. Information Agency.

The family is visiting his sister, Mrs. A. W. Greer.

Sen. Carpenter's Mother Is Dead

By The Associated Press

Mrs. Martha Hillerege, mother of State Sen. Terry Carpenter, died Thursday at Scottsbluff. She was 92 and had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Hillerege was born in Ohio but lived later in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where Sen. Carpenter, her only surviving child, was born. She moved to Scottsbluff in 1917 and had made it her home since that time.

A resolution of sympathy to survivors of Mrs. Hillerege was adopted in the State Legislature in Lincoln.

Canal Break Halts Irrigation Operations In Holdrege Area

Holdrege (AP) — A major break in the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District's Canal E65 halted irrigation Thursday on some 33,000 acres of land between Holdrege and Elwood.

The break apparently occurred about 1:30 a.m. but was not discovered for nearly six hours. Two county roads were overflowed and closed temporarily, but crop damage was minimal because most of the water flowed down a canyon and into Plum Creek.

L. G. Mathieu, irrigation division manager, said temporary repairs were started at once and with round-the-clock work it should be possible to start filling the canal by Monday and resume irrigation by Wednesday.

Permanent repairs will be made after the irrigation season closes, he said.

E65 is a main lateral feed off Tri-County's main supply canal.

Woman, 75, Dies At Rail Crossing

Fremont (AP) — A woman crossing the Union Pacific Railroad tracks on foot shortly before noon Thursday was struck and killed by a westbound mail train.

The railroad identified the victim as Emma Rhoads, about 75, of Fremont.

The spokesman said a gravel road crosses the tracks at that point. He said there is a standard crossing sign.

Reed Explains Invitation Plan For Meeting

Washington (AP) — Dr. Wayne O. Reed, associate commissioner of the U.S. Office of Education, said Thursday persons attending a recent White House conference on education were, aside from those on a special panel, invited as individuals rather than as members of organizations.

He said an effort was made to limit the conference to about 500 persons. The only two groups invited as such, he said, were chief state school officers and the Senate and House education committees.

Reed said he had heard a report that Mrs. J. F. Lucas of Omaha a member of that city's school board, had contended only two school board members were invited.

He said a check showed that two of six Nebraskans invited to the conference made an appearance.

He said the two were the Rev. Edward Conway of Creighton University and Henry Goebel, a teacher at Irving Junior High School in Lincoln, Neb.

Reed said he understood about 15 school board members attended the conference. He said they might have been invited as attorneys or from other business or professions.

Also, he said, three officials of the National School Boards Association were present.

GOP Urged To Support Pending Farm Measure

Shickley (AP)—Mrs. Maurine Biegert, Democratic national committee woman, called on Glenn Cunningham and Dave Martin, Republican congressmen from Nebraska's Second and Third Congressional Districts, to Join Rep. Clair Callan, D-Neb., in support of the currently pending farm bill.

In a prepared statement, the Shickley Democrat stressed that passage of the farm bill could well depend upon the support given it by Republicans from farm districts and agriculturally oriented states.

Emphasizing the importance of achieving a strong farm program, Mrs. Biegert stated: "It cannot be doubted that the farm bill is the most crucial piece of legislation to the state of Nebraska that is now before the United States Congress. Its passage will mean a significant improvement in farm income which will benefit industry and retail business in every city and village in Nebraska. The needs of Nebraska agriculture transcend party lines and I am hopeful that Nebraska will put forth a united front on this critical question."

GOLD'S

Of Human Fulfillment

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Speaking in Washington this week, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., warned metropolitan areas that "lonely poverty" among minority groups can lead to explosive problems in the big cities. "There is nothing more dangerous," he was quoted as saying by the Associated Press, "than to develop a segment in a community that feels it has no stake in it or nothing to lose."

Shriver And Humphrey

In Washington earlier in the week, similar sentiments were expressed by members of the Johnson administration cabinet in speaking to some 55 Nebraskans attending the state's First District Development Conference sponsored by Rep. Clair Callan. Two speakers particularly set what was the dominant tone of that conference. They were Vice Pres. Hubert H. Humphrey and Sargent Shriver, head of the Office of Economic Opportunity. Humphrey and Shriver are much the same in their enthusiasm and approach, the vice president with perhaps just a bit more of the common touch.

Both are in contrast to such a man as William Bundy, in charge of Far Eastern affairs in the State Department. Bundy is equally dedicated but possessed of an outward calm, an articulate delivery and an educated manner. He is analytical, careful and precise while Shriver and Humphrey simply lay their cards on the table.

Humphrey spoke to the Nebraskans in terms of the kind of society in which mankind is intended to live. Mankind, he said, is not intended to live in poverty, ignorance or ugliness. Shriver spoke particularly of poverty since it is the war on poverty he is charged to administer.

Shriver spoke of a federally assisted job-training program for taxi drivers in Chicago. Driver turnover rates were running as high as 80 percent, he noted, while many people there remained permanently unemployed. It was wondered, he said, why these unemployed did not secure and keep a job as taxi driver. Investigation produced the answer. The unemployed poor could not write and, therefore, could not fill out an application form or maintain the daily log of fares that would be required for driving a cab. Also, they could not drive a cab because they were not familiar with their city. They knew only the neighborhood in which they were born and reared. Within a few blocks of their home but still in the city of Chicago, they would be lost.

As a result, several thousand of the unemployed were enrolled in a job-training program in which they were taught to write and to know the geography of their city. Today, these men are Chicago taxi drivers and the taxi driver turnover rate, to the delight of the cab companies, has dropped to about 20 percent. This was only one example he gave but it demonstrates the waste of human resources we have for so long countenanced throughout this nation. But what concern of ours, you might ask, is the plight of humanity in big eastern cities? It would be of concern to us if it were the only such case that existed but it is not. Nebraskans were advised that while only one-third of the population of the nation lives in rural America, two-thirds of the nation's poverty is found there.

What is to be done about this and other aspects of our society that are below acceptable levels of human existence? One standard of measurement might be this. By the time Nebraskans had completed the conference, they had been given pamphlets and booklets in avalanche form explaining the various parts of many federal programs.

It is no exaggeration to say that this material weighed a total of at least 10 pounds. A complete breakdown would show the total number of programs to be in the hundreds. The omnibus housing bill alone contains some seven or eight titles and each title contains a large number of areas of available federal assistance.

A Variety Of Programs

There are programs for assistance in a wide range of educational pursuits, programs for recreational development, for stream pollution control and other health measures, for the physically and mentally handicapped, for utility developments, for small business improvement, for conservation, for electrification, for transportation, for beautification, for housing, for research, for hospitals and for many other things. To some, this means only an excess of government, a threatening growth of the federal bureaucracy. To others it is the means of achieving a higher level of human dignity and satisfaction.

To all it is the reality of current times and, probably, the wave of the future. History may record these years as the age of atomic power, the age of science or the space age. There is one other possibility—the age of social consciousness, the period in which mankind dedicated itself to the eradication of those decadent influences that have plagued it for centuries.

Constitution Stands As Is

Another crucial point in the matter of state legislative apportionment has been passed with Senate rejection of a proposed constitutional amendment. The proposal, by Sen. Everett Dirksen, would have called for submission to the states of a constitutional amendment permitting apportionment of one house of a state legislature on the basis of geography and political subdivision.

The action leaves intact the one-man, one-vote ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court. This ruling stipulates that both houses of any state legislature must be apportioned on the basis of population only.

The question is one which currently plagues the Nebraska Legislature. It is possible that the Senate action will be a stimulant to Nebraska senators who might have been waiting for the outcome of the Senate controversy in the hope that the one-man, one-vote ruling would be done away with.

The ruling still could be scuttled in some way at some future time but not in time to take care of the current Nebraska problem. Nebraska must now face the certainty of legislative districts organized on the basis of equal strength in population. Each legislative district must contain approximately the same number of people.

To achieve this will be no easy task in view of state constitutional provisions governing the subject, but that it has to be done can no longer be questioned. Either it will be done or the state will face the very real prospect of at-large election of state senators and that is an eventuality that none should want to face.

Wilber's Czech Festival

The State of Nebraska is well pleased with its town of Wilber. The county seat of Saline County has thought up and is annually staging a fine event, a successful event. It is the Czech Festival.

It is the time, once a year, when old country manners and customs are portrayed. The old colorful Czech way of dress is revived, the polka is danced, quite well, and great good time is enjoyed by all. The Czechs are proud of their origin and well they should be.

And there is nothing artificial about the Wilber festival. Wilber is a fine county seat town, predominantly Czech. The nearby farms are exquisitely modern, productive and well tended. Saline County has a gem-like quality. And Wilber is a well kept town. It is neighborly and proud to be outstanding. And it is a pattern community for the good uses of American democracy. It has turned out its full share of eminent Americans, speaking in terms of the state and nation. It has a fine school system and believes in education. In fact Wilber believes in everything that is worthwhile and only disbelieves in what is not good.

Any state can do with a great number of Wilbers.

We are all reminded that except for the Indians we were all once outlanders. Our forebears crossed the great oceans to join here in building this fabulous nation. The early men of British descent may have won our independence and laid the foundations of this free society. But those of all countries who followed them in, preserved the vision and shaped the great country as it is today. And by no means the least of these were the Czechs. Hurrah for their fine festival!

Not Badly Hurt

The United States track team went to Russia and took a licking. We do not think it was quite as bad as some do. The U.S. men's team lost by 118 points to 112.

The women did more poorly. They lost 63½ to 43½ mainly as the result of a poor showing in such beefy events as the shot put.

Well, so what? Track teams are made up of a few talented individuals. If they win they do not denote national or racial physical superiority and if they lose it is not a sign that their nation is decadent. International track competition would not last very long if one nation won all the events all the time.

There are perhaps a few incidental reasons why our team did not prevail. One is that they were lacking in winning veterans. In this country outstanding proven athletes often turn pro. That makes them ineligible for amateur particiation. In Russia the state subsidizes their athletes and uses them as long as they can win. That is to say, as in football, a very good sophomore team is most apt to lost to a very good, slightly older and more experienced, senior team.

The United States is currently laboring under an unnecessary handicap, namely the continuing power struggle and feud between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union. This is something we should get rid of because it reflects in poorer teams. It is a fight between two managements, not between the athletes.

But as we say, we do not believe our national image was greatly hurt by a narrow track defeat. It will keep us on our toes and perhaps stimulate a solution of problems we have and that is for our good.

Dummy Target Was Plot Of Red China

WASHINGTON — When newspaper headlines announced the tragic loss of six American fighter-bombers in a July 27 raid near Hanoi, the public did not know that these bases were probably dummies and that our military command apparently had been duped into attacking them.

The public also did not know that special anti-aircraft guns had almost certainly been planted around the dummy SAM missiles in order to shoot down American bombers as they flew in low. Planes attacking missile sites must fly in low in order to escape fire from the missiles, but when they come in low, they are vulnerable to old-style, conventional anti-aircraft guns.

The Defense Department, following the raid on July 27, announced the loss of three F-105 fighter-bombers "through intense conventional fire." Congressional circles, however, insisted that six planes were lost and later the Pentagon admitted two other planes had collided in mid-air while another was shot down on a reconnaissance mission over the missile sites. Total loss: six.

Inquiry at the Defense Department regarding the above facts brought the reply that the matter was under investigation. This investigation, it can be revealed, shows that photos taken from the air following the raids fail to note the usual tracks through the jungles which a heavy missile launcher necessarily must make.

It would have been impossible to place a regular SAM missile launcher on location without leaving construction marks or trails on the neighboring terrain.

Accordingly, military intelligence has come up with the possibility that the dummy missiles were planted by the Chinese, not merely to knock down American planes, but to provoke a dangerous incident between the United States and Russia. Here is what the Chinese had to gain by such strategy:

1. The U.S. attack on the missile sites made it appear that President Johnson was taking a dangerous new gamble with world peace, thus putting the United States in a bad light.

2. Since the world presumed the Russians had built the sites, the attack put them on the spot. Pressure on the Kremlin to retaliate would have produced the kind of Soviet-American crisis that the Chinese have been trying to stir up. Russian failure to retaliate also played into Chinese hands by making Russia look weak in the eyes of other communist countries.

What lends further credence to the conclusion that this was a Chinese plot is the fact that the Russians, a few days earlier, had agreed with the United States to resume disarmament talks in Geneva and quietly explore the possibility of cautious cooperation with the United States in curtailing arms budgets.

It's also considered significant that the Russian press did not report the shooting down of the six American planes which raided the supposed SAM missile sites.

USIA Network Covers The World

WASHINGTON — It did not escape the eagle eye of President Johnson that among other things he now commands is a modern communications empire which is in continuous contact with the rest of the free world. This is the United States Information Agency.

His succinct instructions to its new director, Leonard Marks, were to take it and run it. The President knows Marks as the brilliant young lawyer who guided Mrs. Johnson when that astute business woman decided to risk her capital in the new medium, radio, and then television. That Texas venture is the foundation of the large Johnson fortune.

Marks fixed the date of his swearing-in as September 1 and began studying the shape of his assignment. He has been impressed by what has emerged from the old controversies over whether the propaganda arms of World War II should even be continued and in what form.

USIA, through the Voice of America, broadcasts significant news and commentary about United States foreign policy 800 hours a week in 38 languages. It offers a TV film service in 90 countries. It publishes 80 magazines at regular intervals.

It makes 600 films annually for foreign consumption. These include the highly acclaimed John F. Kennedy documentary, "Day of Lightning, Day of Drums," which so impressed Congress that it may authorize its showing at home.

USIA carries a daily wire service to all United States embassies and posts in the rest of the free world. It sponsors lectures abroad by Americans drawn from all manner of institutions, including private business and labor unions. Marks himself lived in the home of his USIA guides in Asia when he lectured widely for the state department on administrative and constitutional law.

☆ ☆ ☆

He chose Marks, who skyrocketed with the new medium, TV, as a prestigious list of Marks clients shows. He selected the young newscaster, John Chancellor, to direct the Voice of America in succession to an engineer, a television salesman and a foreign service officer.

The newspapers and magazines get a skilled managing editor, Robert Akers, from Beaumont, Tex., whose Enterprise and Journal was praised by Harper's as an international oasis in the arid Southwest. Akers, incidentally, is not a Johnson intimate. His White House pipeline is his former Washington correspondent, Elizabeth Carpenter, Mrs. Johnson's press secretary and staff director.

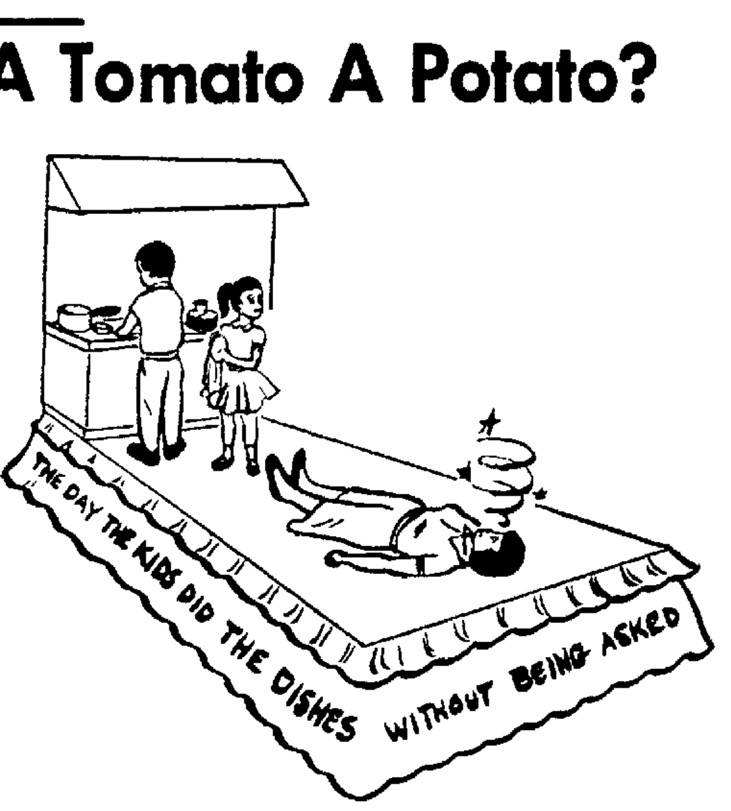
When Is A Tomato A Potato?

By MONA B. PARKER



THE DAY THE KIDS DID THE DISHES WITHOUT BEING ASKED

Gwen Lindberg of the Leader explains Sargent's parade theme for the county fair there this year. Said theme: "Historical Events." She offers one that comes readily to the minds of all young mothers. She calls it, "The Day The Kids Did The Dishes Without Being Asked." And the main figure on the float, she elucidated unnecessarily, "would be Mother—passed out cold."

If this be a good any kind of year, it apparently is a good tomato year. When Henry Norder invited Editor Jerry Pickerell of the Bruning Banner out to take a picture of his vines, he posed first in the middle of the patch, but the vines had reached such a height that only Henry's face was visible. So the picture that appeared in the Banner had the proud grower standing in front of them, with tomatoes reaching to the corner of the garage as a backdrop.

Editor Pickerell was interested in the vines, too, but not as much in their spectacular reach as the fruit being produced thereon, a portion of which have been promised for the Pickerell table.

Several residents of Syracuse were baffled at the sight of tomatoes growing on their potato vines. A reporter for the Journal-Democrat investigated and said, sure enough, it appeared to be true. However, being professionally skeptical, he checked with Otoe County Agent Marvin Hoffman, who had a more logical explanation for the phenomenon.

Seems that when weather conditions are just right during a wet year, potato plants after blooming will sprout a pod containing seeds and that the pods very much resemble a small tomato. Many reports of the oddity have reached his desk this year.

In Mrs. Mabel Hahn's garden in Burwell, a confused Easter lily burst rapturously into bloom, unaware or unconcerned that it is the middle of the summer. Mrs. Hahn counted 13 large and perfect blossoms and buds on the plant.

Not unseasonal but certainly out of its regional element is the cotton plant now blooming for Mrs. Gerald Lenser of Norfolk. Mrs. Lenser is a teacher at the Stanton County District 36 School and planted the seed in a pot in her classroom in February. When school was out, she transplanted the southern product out into her yard.

There were two demonstrations of fogging in Wilber, according to the Republican.

With mosquitoes becoming a larger and more acute problem all the while, nothing had been done to remedy the situation. Finally three city councilmen observed a fogging demonstration that would rid the town of the insects or at least cut down on them. However, the mayor and some of the businessmen who had been invited missed the demonstration.

The publication complained bitterly that Crete possessed itself of such a machine some years ago and DeWitt purchased one this past spring.

"Sometimes I wonder whether our administration wants progress or whether the administration thinks the old days really had something."

From the Oxford Standard: "Visited a home a while back that is so realistic that there are dish towels labelled 'His'."

☆ ☆ ☆

Clarence Hebda of the Nance County Journal would advise anyone and everyone to carry his billfold in such manner and place as not to lose it. He was 150 miles from home, he said, when he had such an unnerving experience, and commented that "it's quite a naked feeling to discover that your wallet and all its contents are gone."

He found it again, so the story ended happily. Meanwhile, his wife is trying to figure out a way for him to wear the money container on a chain around his neck.

Soul-Searching Prelude To A-Bomb

New York — "I arrived about five-thirty in the evening," a Japanese general noted in his diary 20 years ago this week. "When the plane flew over Hiroshima, there was but one black dead tree, as if a crow was perched on it. There was nothing there but that tree. That's when I realized how horrible it had been.

"As we landed at the airport all the grass was red as if it had been toasted. There was no fire anymore. Everything was burned up simultaneously. Some schools with blown off roofs and broken windows were left standing some distance from the center of the city. But the city itself was completely wiped out. That must be the word, Yes, completely wiped out."

Some of the soul searching that went into the decision to atomize Hiroshima can be found in the blunt words of a book just published, entitled "The Decision to Drop the Bomb—A Political History." It emerges from an NBC White Paper documentary two years in the making.

Sixty of the scientists and engineers who had combined their incredible talents to perfect something that man had never known before were so stunned after seeing the test of the bomb at Alamagordo, N.Mex., that they appealed to the government never to use it. The group's representatives were given short shrift at the Pentagon.

The group offered alternatives. Why not drop millions of leaflets warning the Japanese people about the ghastly power of the new weapon? No, the scientists were told, the Japanese wouldn't surrender to a leaflet. Then, what about inviting Emperor Hirohito and his war cabinet to watch a test somewhere out over a cleared area off Tokyo Bay? No.

One of the most distinguished nuclear physicists in the party had one other alternative which he submitted in writing before leaving Washington. He requested that if the bomb must be dropped, he be strapped to the first one and drop with it—to atone for his sin in creating it. No.

☆ ☆ ☆

"All of us understood the terrible responsibility involved in our attempt to unlock the doors to such a devastating weapon," Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson wrote. "President Roosevelt spoke to me many times of his awareness of the catastrophic potentials of our work. But we were at war . . ."

Leo Szilard, one of the fathers of the bomb, had a change of heart after Hitler fell. He and others who had known Nazi and Fascist terrorism lost their zeal to produce the weapon that would have destroyed their old foes. Szilard was offended at a meeting with Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes when Byrnes, in his words, "thought it would be difficult to persuade Russia to withdraw her troops from Hungary and Rumanian, and that Russia might be more manageable if impressed by American military might."

☆ ☆ ☆

Old reporter Winston Churchill watched Stalin's face when President Truman told him about the bomb: "I was perhaps five yards away; he seemed to be delighted. A new bomb! Of extraordinary power! Probably decisive on the whole Japanese war! What a bit of luck! This was my impression of the moment, and I was sure that he had no idea of the significance of what he was being told."

(Klaus Fuchs, Alan Nunn May, the Rosenbergs and others would not have agreed with the Churchillian estimate.)

Generals Carl Spaatz and Curtis LeMay were sure Japan could have been knocked out of the war by conventional bombing. Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer remembers what it was like after the first test:

"A few laughed, a few cried, most were silent. I remembered the line from Hindu scripture, the Bagavad Gita: Vishnu is trying to persuade the Prince that he should do his duty and to impress him he takes on his multi-armed form and says, 'Now I am become death, destroyer of worlds."

A Prediction

Hastings, Neb.

The Legislature is about to adjourn. The most interesting thing done by this session has been the passing of an income tax law. Governor Morrison was wise not to sign that since it was promised to be taken to the people for a referendum.

There has long been a movement to broaden our tax base. Now we are to learn whether the people want that. My very limited information from the public is that the people will support the law at the polls. The old system could not keep property tax within reason.

And let us make one more valid forecast: There will be a sales tax enacted by the 1969 session, if not by the 1967 session. The income tax payers still support that.

Dummy Target Was Plot Of Red China

WASHINGTON — When newspaper headlines announced the tragic loss of six American fighter-bombers in a July 27 raid near Hanoi, the public did not know that these bases were probably dummies and that our military command apparently had been duped into attacking them.

The public also did not know that special anti-aircraft guns had almost certainly been planted around the dummy SAM missiles in order to shoot down American bombers as they flew in low. Planes attacking missile sites must fly in low in order to escape fire from the missiles, but when they come in low, they are vulnerable to old-style, conventional anti-aircraft guns.

The Defense Department, following the raid on July 27, announced the loss of three F-105 fighter-bombers "through intense conventional fire." Congressional circles, however, insisted that six planes were lost and later the Pentagon admitted two other planes had collided in mid-air while another was shot down on a reconnaissance mission over the missile sites. Total loss: six.

Inquiry at the Defense Department regarding the above facts brought the reply that the matter was under investigation. This investigation, it can be revealed, shows that photos taken from the air following the raids fail to note the usual tracks through the jungles which a heavy missile launcher necessarily must make.

It would have been impossible to place a regular SAM missile launcher on location without leaving construction marks or trails on the neighboring terrain.

Accordingly, military intelligence has come up with the possibility that the dummy missiles were planted by the Chinese, not merely to knock down American planes, but to provoke a dangerous incident between the United States and Russia. Here is what the Chinese had to gain by such strategy:

1. The U.S. attack on the missile sites made it appear that President Johnson was taking a dangerous new gamble with world peace, thus putting the United States in a bad light.

2. Since the world presumed the Russians had built the sites, the attack put them on the spot. Pressure on the Kremlin to retaliate would have produced the kind of Soviet-American crisis that the Chinese have been trying to stir up. Russian failure to retaliate also played into Chinese hands by making Russia look weak in the eyes of other communist countries.

What lends further credence to the conclusion that this was a Chinese plot is the fact that the Russians, a few days earlier, had agreed with the United States to resume disarmament talks in Geneva and quietly explore the possibility of cautious cooperation with the United States in curtailing arms budgets.

It's also considered significant that the Russian press did not report the shooting down of the six American planes which raided the supposed SAM missile sites.

USIA Network Covers The World

WASHINGTON — It did not escape the eagle eye of President Johnson that among other things he now commands is a modern communications empire which is in continuous contact with the rest of the free world. This is the United States Information Agency.

His succinct instructions to its new director, Leonard Marks, were to take it and run it. The President knows Marks as the brilliant young lawyer who guided Mrs. Johnson when that astute business woman decided to risk her capital in the new medium, radio, and then television. That Texas venture is the foundation of the large Johnson fortune.

Marks fixed the date of his swearing-in as September 1 and began studying the shape of his assignment. He has been impressed by what has emerged from the old controversies over whether the propaganda arms of World War II should even be continued and in what form.

USIA, through the Voice of America, broadcasts significant news and commentary about United States foreign policy 800 hours a week in 38 languages. It offers a TV film service in 90 countries. It publishes 80 magazines at regular intervals.

It makes 600 films annually for foreign consumption. These include the highly acclaimed John F. Kennedy documentary, "Day of Lightning, Day of Drums," which so impressed Congress that it may authorize its showing at home.

USIA carries a daily wire service to all United States embassies and posts in the rest of the free world. It sponsors lectures abroad by Americans drawn from all manner of institutions, including private business and labor unions. Marks himself lived in the home of his USIA guides in Asia when he lectured widely for the state department on administrative and constitutional law.

☆ ☆ ☆

He chose Marks, who skyrocketed with the new medium, TV, as a prestigious list of Marks clients shows. He selected the young newscaster, John Chancellor, to direct the Voice of America in succession to an engineer, a television salesman and a foreign service officer.

The newspapers and magazines get a skilled managing editor, Robert Akers, from Beaumont, Tex., whose Enterprise and Journal was praised by Harper's as an international oasis in the arid Southwest. Akers, incidentally, is not a Johnson intimate. His White House pipeline is his former Washington correspondent, Elizabeth Carpenter, Mrs. Johnson's press secretary and staff director.

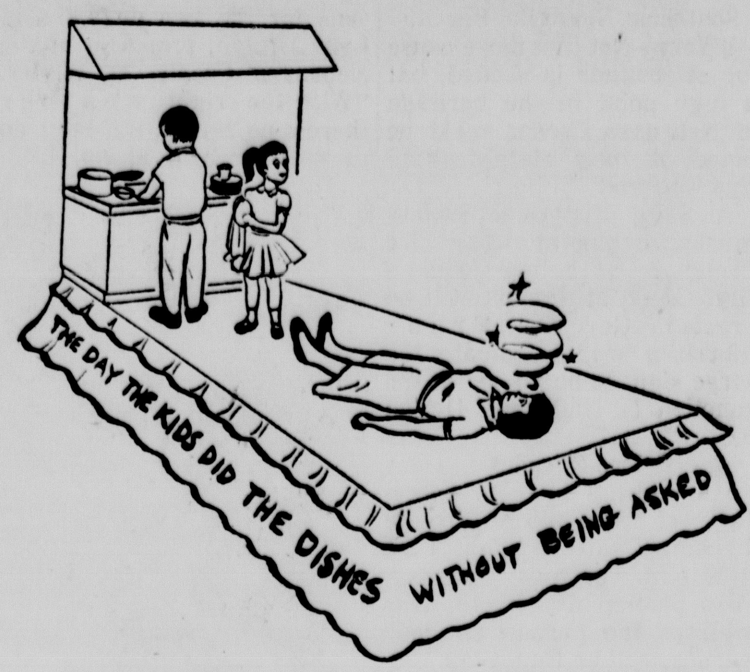
THE NEIGHBORS SAY

When Is A Tomato A Potato?

By MONA B. PARKER



THE DAY THE KIDS DID THE DISHES WITHOUT BEING ASKED

Gwen Lindberg of the Leader explains Sargent's parade theme for the county fair there this year. Said theme: "Historical Events." She offers one that comes readily to the minds of all young mothers. She calls it, "The Day The Kids Did The Dishes Without Being Asked." And the main figure on the float, she elucidated unnecessarily, "would be Mother—passed out cold."

If this be a good any kind of year, it apparently is a good tomato year. When Henry Norder invited Editor Jerry Pickerell of the Bruning Banner out to take a picture of his vines, he posed first in the middle of the patch, but the vines had reached such a height that only Henry's face was visible. So the picture that appeared in the Banner had the proud grower standing in front of them, with tomatoes reaching to the corner of the garage as a backdrop.

Editor Pickerell was interested in the vines, too, but not as much in their spectacular reach as the fruit being produced thereon, a portion of which have been promised for the Pickerell table.

Several residents of Syracuse were baffled at the sight of tomatoes growing on their potato vines. A reporter for the Journal-Democrat investigated and said, sure enough, it appeared to be true. However, being professionally skeptical, he checked with Otoe County Agent Marvin Hoffman, who had a more logical explanation for the phenomenon.

Seems that when weather conditions are just right during a wet year, potato plants after blooming will sprout a pod containing seeds and that the pods very much resemble a small tomato. Many reports of the oddity have reached his desk this year.

In Mrs. Mabel Hahn's garden in Burwell, a confused Easter lily burst rapturously into bloom, unaware or unconcerned that it is the middle of the summer. Mrs. Hahn counted 13 large and perfect blossoms and buds on the plant.

Not unseasonal but certainly out of its regional element is the cotton plant now blooming for Mrs. Gerald Lenser of Norfolk. Mrs. Lenser is a teacher at the Stanton County District 36 School and planted the seed in a pot in her classroom in February. When school was out, she transplanted the southern product out into her yard.

☆ ☆ ☆

There were two demonstrations of fogging in Wilber, according to the Republican.

With mosquitoes becoming a larger and more acute problem all the while, nothing had been done to remedy the situation. Finally three city councilmen observed a fogging demonstration that would rid the town of the insects or at least cut down on them. However, the mayor and some of the businessmen who had been invited missed the demonstration.

The publication complained bitterly that Crete possessed itself of such a machine some years ago and DeWitt purchased one this past spring.

"Sometimes I wonder whether our administration wants progress or whether the administration thinks the old days really had something."

☆ ☆ ☆

From the Oxford Standard: "Visited a home a while back that is so realistic that there are dish towels labelled 'His'."

☆ ☆ ☆

Clarence Hebda of the Nance County Journal would advise anyone and everyone to carry his billfold in such manner and place as not to lose it. He was 150 miles from home, he said, when he had such an unnerving experience, and commented that "it's quite a naked feeling to discover that your wallet and all its contents are gone."

He found it again, so the story ended happily. Meanwhile, his wife is trying to figure out a way for him to wear the money container on a chain around his neck.

BOB CONSIDINE

Soul-Searching Prelude To A-Bomb

New York — "I arrived about five-thirty in the evening," a Japanese general noted in his diary 20 years ago this week. "When the plane flew over Hiroshima, there was but one black dead tree, as if a crow was perched on it. There was nothing there but that tree. That's when I realized how horrible it had been.

"As we landed at the airport all the grass was red as if it had been toasted. There was no fire anymore. Everything was burned up simultaneously. Some schools with blown off roofs and broken windows were left standing some distance from the center of the city. But the city itself was completely wiped out. That must be the word, Yes, completely wiped out."

Some of the soul searching that went into the decision to atomize Hiroshima can be found in the blunt words of a book just published, entitled "The Decision to Drop the Bomb—A Political History." It emerges from an NBC White Paper documentary two years in the making.

Sixty of the scientists and engineers who had combined their incredible talents to perfect something that man had never known before were so stunned after seeing the test of the bomb at Alamagordo, N.Mex., that they appealed to the government never to use it. The group's representatives were given short shrift at the Pentagon.

The group offered alternatives. Why not drop millions of leaflets warning the Japanese people about the ghastly power of the new weapon? No, the scientists were told, the Japanese wouldn't surrender to a leaflet. Then, what about inviting Emperor Hirohito and his war cabinet to watch a test somewhere out over a cleared area off Tokyo Bay? No.

One of the most distinguished nuclear physicists in the party had one other alternative which he submitted in writing before leaving Washington. He requested that if the bomb must be dropped, he be strapped to the first one and drop with it—to atone for his sin in creating it. No.

☆ ☆ ☆

"All of us understood the terrible responsibility involved in our attempt to unlock the doors to such a devastating weapon," Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson wrote. "President Roosevelt spoke to me many times of his awareness of the catastrophic potentials of our work. But we were at war . . ."

Leo Szilard, one of the fathers of the bomb, had a change of heart after Hitler fell. He and others who had known Nazi and Fascist terrorism lost their zeal to produce the weapon that would have destroyed their old foes. Szilard was offended at a meeting with Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes when Byrnes, in his words, "thought it would be difficult to persuade Russia to withdraw her troops from Hungary and Rumanian, and that Russia might be more manageable if impressed by American military might."

☆ ☆ ☆

Old reporter Winston Churchill watched Stalin's face when President Truman told him about the bomb: "I was perhaps five yards away; he seemed to be delighted. A new bomb! Of extraordinary power! Probably decisive on the whole Japanese war! What a bit of luck! This was my impression of the moment, and I was sure that he had no idea of the significance of what he was being told."

(Klaus Fuchs, Alan Nunn May, the Rosenbergs and others would not have agreed with the Churchillian estimate.)

Generals Carl Spaatz and Curtis LeMay were sure Japan could have been knocked out of the war by conventional bombing. Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer remembers what it was like after the first test:

"A few laughed, a few cried, most were silent. I remembered the line from Hindu scripture, the Bagavad Gita: Vishnu is trying to persuade the Prince that he should do his duty and to impress him he takes on his multi-armed form and says, 'Now I am become death, destroyer of worlds.'"

Your Five Cents Worth

A Prediction

Hastings, Neb.

The Legislature is about to adjourn. The most interesting thing done by this session has been the passing of an income tax law. Governor Morrison was wise not to sign that since it was promised to be taken to the people for a referendum.

There has long been a movement to broaden our tax base. Now we are to learn whether the people want that. My very limited information from the public is that the people will support the law at the polls. The old system could not keep property tax within reason.

And let us make one more valid forecast: There will be a sales tax enacted by the 1969 session, if not by the 1967 session. The income tax payers still support that.

Proposals To Split Up Dodge, Boone Rejected

The Legislature Thursday rejected proposals to split up Dodge and Boone Counties for legislative reapportionment purposes, but went along with a split of Harlan County.

The changes had been proposed in amendments to LB925 as offered Wednesday by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter.

The amendments were offered with a view to bringing the 1960 population variance between largest and smallest districts to 15%, in contrast with a variance of about 20% in the bill as previously drawn.

Hooper Sen. Ross H. Rasmussen said the Carpenter revisions did not make enough population changes "to justify the slivering away of any county." He noted also that a technical error in the amendment orphaned one precinct in Dodge County.

Dodge County

Lawmakers approved 13-7 the Rasmussen proposal to leave Dodge County self contained.

Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill received 17-4 approval of his proposal to reject any partitioning of Boone County.

Retained, however, was the Carpenter amendment which puts the west half of Harlan County in the 38th District with Frontier, Gosper, Red Willow and Furnas Counties and the eastern half of Harlan into the 37th District with Kearney, Franklin, Webster and Nuckolls.

A number of other redistricting arrangements were proposed and rejected, leaving LB925 in very nearly the form in which it was advanced from general file last Friday.

There was no assurance, however, that LB925 can gather the 25 affirmative votes needed for final passage. The alternative to passing a reapportionment bill is to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court from the three-judge federal court panel's recent decision that the reapportionment plan passed earlier this session as LB628 was invalid for failure to meet the "one-man, one-vote" criterion.

Favor Appeal

Influential Sens. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud and Carpenter indicated Wednesday they favor appeal and the possibility of such an appeal appeared enhanced.

One of the proposals rejected Thursday was offered by Sens. William Wylie of Elgin and Elvin Adamson of Valentine. It would have reduced the population disparity to 8.3% but would have cut up 11 counties. Three of the counties—Hall, Douglas and Pierce—would have been cut three ways.

The Wylie-Adamson plan was rejected 12-26.

Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell was rebuffed 8-23 in a proposal to avoid splitting Harlan County by a series of moves of counties between districts, including the placement Garden County in the new 44th District.

Following work on the assorted amendments, lawmakers advanced LB925 from select file on a voice vote. Barring later amendment offerings, the bill will show up next on final reading.

School Merger Bill, LB688, Fails To Pass

A school merger bill sought by Beatrice interests failed to pass on final reading in the State Legislature Thursday.

LB688, introduced by Sens. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice and Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, received a 20-14 vote, but needed 25 "aye" votes for passage.

The measure would have provided for merging two or more Class 1 or 2 school districts into a neighboring Class 3 district to form a new Class 3 district. The original district would retain a number of functions, but the districts would act in concert in other educational matters.

Another somewhat similar bill, LB452, backed by Hastings interests, was scheduled for final reading Thursday also, but Sen. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, chief sponsor, asked that the final vote be dealyed so he could work on an amendment.

LB452 calls for the formation of federations of school districts to achieve somewhat the same ends as those sought in LB688.

LB688, the Beatrice bill, was the seventh to fail on final reading at the current session.

Youth Confab Opens

By WAYNE KREUSCHER
Star Staff Writer

"To show youth that they can do something for their communities and state and how they can do it."

This, said George Lonnquist, chairman of the fifth Nebraska Conference of Youth which started Thursday at Nebraska Center, is the main purpose of the three-day meeting.

"Youth," he said, "really can do something and here Young leaders from all over the state kind of get a kick in the rear which will send them home ready to help their communities."

Youth Councils

Lonnquist pointed out that since the conference started in 1960 more and more Nebraska cities have started youth councils, for example in Lincoln, Ogallala, Humboldt, Minden, Arapahoe and North Platte.

Friday afternoon a Pennsylvania man, Amos E. Neyhart, known as the father of driver's education, will speak at a conference luncheon.

The day will also include orientations, reports by outstanding youths to the 400 delegates, forums and workshops on problems and what can be done about them and other well known speakers.

Governor Frank Morrison will speak on the conference's theme "Let Youth Help Nebraska Grow," as will William Galbraith, chairman of the Nebraska Centennial Committee.

Workshops

The forums and workshops, Lonnquist said, gave Nebraska youths the incentive to go home and start and work with their own community youth councils.

Project Action, Friday evening, will especially emphasize what other towns throughout Nebraska have already done.

The Rev. Adrian Edgar of Omaha spoke to the youths Thursday night about the majesty of the Nebraska's state capitol and he drew parallels between its beauty and strength and that needed by young people.

Rich Hoerner, a Lincoln delegate, represented the youths general opinion of the speech when he said, "I never realized or appreciated all the symbolism in the capitol before, it is really magnificent."

Nevada Resident Given Ten Years In Entry Attempt

The third man convicted of attempted entry of a Wallace bank in 1963 was sentenced Thursday to 10 years in prison by U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt.

The judge sentenced Carl D. Wheeler, 48, of Reno, Nevada, after he denied Wheeler's motion for a new trial.

Wheeler, along with Harry Homes, 31, of Boise, Idaho, and Richard Gollher of Winnemucca, Nevada, were convicted by a jury last April on a charge of attempted entry into the Farmers State Bank at Wallace, April 28, 1963. The other two were sentenced earlier to 10 years each.

Wheeler also faces charges in Nevada in connection with a fatal shooting in Nevada. The federal sentence is to commence after the Nevada case is disposed of.

MITZI'S A BOOZE HOUND

Even though it may be a little uncharitable to call a lady a booze hound, the fact remains that Mitzi is mighty fond of a sip of beer. The cocker spaniel's owners, the George Aherns of Indianapolis, Ind., report that she can be highly persistent in begging for the last few drops out of an empty beer bottle.

CWA Official Seeks Equal Wages

JOHN DeFRAIN
Star Staff Writer

"We're out to get the same wages for everybody," said Glen Watts, vice president of the Communications Workers of America (CWA).

Watts, who was featured speaker at a week-long CWA educational conference at the Nebraska Center, was referring to the current negotiations between his union and the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company for higher wages.

Even with the different cost of living throughout the country, people in District 7 of the CWA are getting sub-par salaries, he said.

$6 Per Week

Before addressing 60 CWA members from District 7 including Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Watts said the wage hike would possibly be $6 a week.

During his speech, Watts gave a history of the CWA which came to power in 1949, and then discussed the present, focusing his talk on the repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

On this subject he said "the unorganized worker is holding us back." He gets union benefits but does not participate.

Watts said he was happy with the Congress progress in repealing these so-called right to work laws. "The majority of workers voted for unions and in a democracy people should obey the majority," he said.

Right To Work

Nineteen states, including Nebraska, have right to work laws, and according to Watts, all have lower wages and lower standards of living.

The CWA, a 300,000 member group, has workers in radio, TV, telegraph, non-voice communication, and manufacturers of communication devices.

In the fight for higher wages Watts said his union does not like to strike, but is not afraid to. The last big strike by the CWA was two years ago against General Telephone of California.

Watts also talked on the welfare efforts of his union in American communities, Africa and South America.

Omaha Officials Tour Salt-Wahoo For Papio Hints

More than 25 civic and governmental leaders from Omaha Thursday took a six-hour bus tour of the Salt-Wahoo watershed near here.

Following the inspection, city councilman Sam Vacanti said inter-agency cooperteion appeared to be a major reason for the success of the project.

Omaha and Douglas County plan to develop the Papio Creek watershed in their area. They are seeking guidelines from the Salt-Wahoo project.

Vacanti said the Salt-Wahoo development was a "good model" for the Papio watershed because the basic flood control problems were similar.

Court Panel Strikes ICC Ruling Against Lincoln Firm

A special three-judge federal court panel Thursday struck down an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling against a Lincoln shipping firm.

It ordered the ICC to hold further hearings on the case.

Involved was an ICC order denying an application by the Meat Packers Express, Inc. to ship meat and dairy products over irregular routes from Denison, Iowa, to points in California, Arizona, Nevada, Oregon and Washington.

The Lincoln firm had applied for an interstate commerce shipping permit on the basis of a continuing contract with the Farmbest, Inc., of Denison.

The ICC ruled the application was not in the public interest. It also said it was not necessary since other transportation services were already available.

The Lincoln firm charged the order was arbitrary and capricious.

The three-judge panel agreed. It said the ICC placed a burden of proof greater than was required upon the applicant.

State Fair To Host Hereford Contest

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The 1966 Nebraska State Fair has been selected as the site for a $15,000 premium Register of Merit Hereford Show.

The announcement that Nebraska had been selected for one of the top shows of the American Hereford Association (AHA) was made Thursday at the Fairgrounds race meet by W. P. Adams II of Kilgore, a member of the board of directors of the AHA, as he presented the winners blanket and silver tray to Lincolnite Ben Fogelson, owner of Little Gap that won the featured race dedicated to Nebraska Herefords.

Henry Brandt, State Fair manager said "It is indeed an honor to host the important Register of Merit show recognizing the largest beef breed in the United States and Nebraska's contribution toward breeding high-quality herefords."

The traditional horse blanket presented the winner by Nebraska Hereford breeders was inscribed "Nebraska Herefords."

Harry Brown of Bassett, and John Cooksley of Broken Bow, vice president and secretary respectively of the Nebraska Hereford Assn. joined Adams in the presentation and announcement of the show coming to Nebraska next year.

This marks the first time Nebraska has been selected for a Register of Merit Hereford show, according to Nebraska hereford breeders.

Bob Day, publicity director for the American Hereford Assn. said that while the official name of the show had not yet been designated by the AHA strong support had been voiced to call the event "The Cornhusker Register of Merit Show."

CAB Orders Frontier To Serve Columbus After Many Hearings

A roadblock to commercial air service to the city of Columbus was removed Thursday.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) in Washington advised the Nebraska Aeronautics Department it has lifted the stay order which had enabled Frontier Airlines to defer the start of service to Columbus.

Lifting of the stay order puts Frontier under order to inaugurate service to Columbus promptly.

Efforts to put Columbus on a commercial air line route have extended over several years and been the subject of numerous hearings and cases before the CAB.

Frontier would serve Columbus with DC3's on the southern Nebraska route as long as the Columbus airport is unable to handle convair aircraft. Once runways have been lengthened to accommodate convairs, the service arrangement could be changed.

PARDONS BOARD WILL CONSIDER 27 INMATES

The parole application of Arvid W. Holmquist, 45, Omaha, convicted of two robberies, will be heard before the Nebraska Board of Pardons Sept. 15, it was announced Thursday.

Holmquist is one of 15 penitentiary inmates whose paroles will be considered on that date by the board.

Holmquist, who gave up a $13,000-a-year salesman's job in 1959, admitted 13 robberies that netted some $31,500. He was convicted of robberies in Douglas and Lancaster counties.

He was sentenced to nine years by Douglas County District Court on May 25, 1961, for robbing Charles C. Blanchard, manager of the Northwest Finance Co. in Omaha.

State Fair To Host Hereford Contest

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The 1966 Nebraska State Fair has been selected as the site for a $15,000 premium Register of Merit Hereford Show.

The announcement that Nebraska had been selected for one of the top shows of the American Hereford Association (AHA) was made Thursday at the Fairgrounds race meet by W. P. Adams II of Kilgore, a member of the board of directors of the AHA, as he presented the winners blanket and silver tray to Lincolnite Ben Fogelson, owner of Little Gap that won the featured race dedicated to Nebraska Herefords.

Henry Brandt, State Fair manager, said, "It is indeed an honor to host the important Register of Merit show recognizing the largest beef breed in the United States and Nebraska's contribution toward breeding high-quality herefords."

The traditional horse blanket presented the winner by Nebraska Hereford breeders was inscribed "Nebraska Herefords."

Harry Brown of Bassett, and John Cooksley of Broken Bow, vice president and secretary respectively of the Nebraska Hereford Assn. joined Adams in the presentation and announcement of the show coming to Nebraska next year.

This marks the first time Nebraska has been selected for a Register of Merit Hereford show, according to Nebraska hereford breeders.

Bob Day, publicity director for the American Hereford Assn., said that while the official name of the show had not yet been designated by the AHA strong support had been voiced to call the event "The Cornhusker Register of Merit Show."

CAB Orders Frontier To Serve Columbus After Many Hearings

A roadblock to commercial air service to the city of Columbus was removed Thursday.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) in Washington advised the Nebraska Aeronautics Department it has lifted the stay order which had enabled Frontier Airlines to defer the start of service to Columbus.

Lifting of the stay order puts Frontier under order to inaugurate service to Columbus promptly.

Efforts to put Columbus on a commercial air line route have extended over several years and been the subject of numerous hearings and cases before the CAB.

Frontier would serve Columbus with DC3's on the southern Nebraska route as long as the Columbus airport is unable to handle convair aircraft. Once runways have been lengthened to accommodate convairs, the service arrangement could be changed.

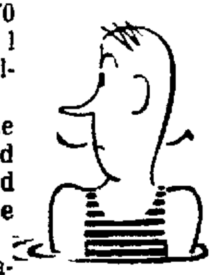
JOURNAL-STAR WANT ADS BRING RESULTS—477-8902

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane



"Last year," said the tourist bureau man, "Hawaii logged 508,870 visitors. It was only 80,000 ten years ago.

"This year we expect 610,000. By 1970 Hawaii will pass the million mark!"

He said the figures had been worked out by the banks.

On the basis of lower air fares. (West Coast to Hawaii is now $100. They expect it to be less.)

On the basis of new hotels being planned. (Mr. Hilton, where will it all end?)

On the basis of faster travel by supersonic jets. ("Coffee, tea or suntan lotion?")

Well, will it still be Paradise? When the millionth visitor is handed the millionth lei? And tucked in his two-by-six piece of sand on the beach at Waikiki?

Tourist business is major industry here these coconut creamy days. It has passed sugar and pineapple. And if you stand around gawking in the march of progress, you are apt to be mowed down.

Over the weekend, Laurance Rockefeller opened the plush Mauna Kea Beach Hotel on the island of Hawaii. (The Big Island is almost twice the size of all the others together. Of 650,000 people in the whole State, 514,000 live in Honolulu.)

A number of Honolulu people flew down. They all said it was good to have more and more people coming to the islands.

☆ ☆ ☆

I asked: "How about all those skyscraper hotels hiding the beach at Waikiki? How about all those high-rise buildings climbing the sides of Diamond Head?"

They said: "Oh, but we don't live at Waikiki. And when we drive through, we just don't notice the buildings or the crowds.

☆ ☆ ☆

The outer islands—(meaning the islands away from Honolulu)—are beginning to taste the sugary tourist business. As Waikiki grows up and the coco palms come down.

☆ ☆ ☆

Before Rockefeller opened his pleasure palace, he sent a surveyor through the 11 western states.

"He found out," said the tourist bureau man, "that Hawaii is the Number One!—the Number One choice of every travel agency. It is their best market. Everybody wants to come to Hawaii."

New hotels are going up on the island of Maui — to add to Sheraton's hotel on the beach at Kaanapali.

"Actually," said the tourist bureau man, "we find many people come back from the outer islands tour and are glad to be back at Waikiki. They say, 'There isn't anything to do out there.'

"He gets back in Waikiki. The weather's like warm silk. He can hear the coco palms rattle in the wind and the music is better—all the best musicians are in the Waikiki hotels.

"He hears that 'little grass shack' song. And what he means is a little grass shack built by Conrad Hilton. With a bar, a beach and hot and cold running hula dancers."

JOURNAL-STAR WANT ADS BRING RESULTS—477-8902

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

"Last year," said the tourist bureau man, "Hawaii logged 508,870 visitors. It was only 80,000 ten years ago.

"This year we expect 610,000. By 1970 Hawaii will pass the million mark!"

He said the figures had been worked out by the banks.

On the basis of lower air fares. (West Coast to Hawaii is now $100. They expect it to be less.)

On the basis of new hotels being planned. (Mr. Hilton, where will it all end?)

On the basis of faster travel by supersonic jets. ("Coffee, tea or suntan lotion?")

Well, will it still be Paradise? When the millionth visitor is handed the millionth lei? And tucked in his two-by-six piece of sand on the beach at Waikiki?

Tourist business is major industry here these coconut creamy days. It has passed sugar and pineapple. And if you stand around gawking in the march of progress, you are apt to be mowed down.

Over the weekend, Laurance Rockefeller opened the plush Mauna Kea Beach Hotel on the island of Hawaii. (The Big Island is almost twice the size of all the others together. Of 650,000 people in the whole State, 514,000 live in Honolulu.)

A number of Honolulu people flew down. They all said it was good to have more and more people coming to the islands.

☆ ☆ ☆

I asked: "How about all those skyscraper hotels hiding the beach at Waikiki? How about all those high-rise buildings climbing the sides of Diamond Head?"

They said: "Oh, but we don't live at Waikiki. And when we drive through, we just don't notice the buildings or the crowds.

☆ ☆ ☆

The outer islands—(meaning the islands away from Honolulu)—are beginning to taste the sugary tourist business. As Waikiki grows up and the coco palms come down.

☆ ☆ ☆

Before Rockefeller opened his pleasure palace, he sent a surveyor through the 11 western states.

"He found out," said the tourist bureau man, "that Hawaii is the Number One!—the Number One choice of every travel agency. It is their best market. Everybody wants to come to Hawaii."

New hotels are going up on the island of Maui — to add to Sheraton's hotel on the beach at Kaanapali.

"Actually," said the tourist bureau man, "we find many people come back from the outer islands tour and are glad to be back at Waikiki. They say, 'There isn't anything to do out there.'

"He gets back in Waikiki. The weather's like warm silk. He can hear the coco palms rattle in the wind and the music is better—all the best musicians are in the Waikiki hotels.

"He hears that 'little grass shack' song. And what he means is a little grass shack built by Conrad Hilton. With a bar, a beach and hot and cold running hula dancers."

Health Regions Bill Amendments Adopted

A bill dividing Nebraska into six health regions for purposes of an accelerated attack on health problems was amended on the legislative floor Thursday to exclude Douglas and Lancaster Counties from the regions.

Specifically, the LB927 amendment offered by Sen. George Syas of Omaha and approved 27-1 would exclude from the regions any county which has a health department of its own, although such counties could take advantage of all the powers and privileges granted the regions.

Douglas and Lancaster are the only counties with their own health departments.

Also adopted were amendments offered by Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr of Norfolk, carrying out suggestions of the State Medical Society.

LB927 was introduced by Gov. Frank Morrison and delivered by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter.

Sen. Brauer said the medical society was not informed of the bill's preparation. He said the bill was drafted by State Hospitals Division Director Verne Pangborn and Pat Okura, state planning executive for mental health and mental retardation.

The Brauer amendments approved 29-0 provided that the health regions shall involve themselves in four fields only — mental health, mental retardation, crippled children and rehabilitation services of the State Board of Health.

A requirement for health board approval and procedures for submitting proposals to the voters also were included in the amendments.

State Health Director E. A. Rogers has said LB927 would enable all areas of the state to establish expanded mental health facilities and take advantage of federal construction funds which individual cities or counties might not be in position to qualify for.

The amendments to LB927 were adopted on select file, middle floor step en route to final passage, and the bill thereafter was advanced.

$8.6 Million In Grants Received By Nebraska U

The University of Nebraska announced Thursday it has received a record $8.6 million in research, training and fellowship grants for the fiscal year which began July 1.

That's $2.4 million or about 40% more than the total received last year, primarily because of a $2.6 million grant from the federal government to finance construction of the new College of Dentistry building.

Dr. Merk Hobson, vice chancellor in charge of research and graduate education, said more than 90% of the outside funds came from the federal government.

The major beneficiaries were the College of Dentistry and College of Medicine, which each received more than $2 million in grants, and the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, which received about $1.2 million.

Pollution Funds Are Distributed

Lincoln (AP)—The State Water Pollution Control Council Thursday allocated $1,314,301 in federal funds to 31 Nebraska communities to help finance construction of pollution abatement facilities.

The requests of all communities were satisfied except that of Omaha, which had asked for $600,000 in federal money for its paunch manure treatment plant but was allocated only $168,803 because of lack of available funds.

The largest allocation was a $225,000 grant to North Platte for construction of a sewage treatment plant. Other major allocations included $182,700 to Grand Island for an interceptor sewer, $141,620 to complete an allocation approved for Lincoln last year, and $113,350 to Columbus for a treatment plant.

The funds are for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Fourteen of the grants will be used to establish plants at communities which now are dumping untreated wastes into Nebraska waters, while the others, excepting Omaha's allocation, will be used to improve existing facilities.

Omaha had requested a maximum grant of $600,000 allowable under the federal law for its $3.5 million paunch manure plant scheduled to be under construction later this year.

State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi said the relatively small allocation at least will "show Omaha officials we have done everything we can to encourage them to move ahead with the project."

Other grants included:

Gering, $76,140; Auburn, $52,170; Gothenburg, $79,500; Oakland, $26,160; Scribner, $17,750; Lyons, $17,670; Laurel, $22,710; Spencer, $19,920; Burwell, $24,300; Newman Grove, $11,460; Winside, $7,620; Silver Creek, $5,100; Dannebrog, $6,600; Boelus, $11,040; Dunbar, $8,494; Palmer, $6,840; Hadar, $7,275; Wilsonville, $10,394; Bee, $5,471; Chambers, $14,000; Malmo, $9,150; Roca, $6,592; Herman, $6,540; Sutton, $10,012; Mullen, $13,020, and Emerson, $6,600.

Omaha Struggle To Meet Deadline On Manure Plant Becoming Losing Battle

The city of Omaha's struggle to meet federal deadlines for construction of a paunch manure treatment plant to reduce pollution of the Missouri River loomed more and more like a losing battle Thursday.

The Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council learned that the estimated cost of the paunch removal and incineration plant has been raised to $3.5 million, from an earlier estimate of $1.7 million, thus compounding the financing headaches of the city.

In addition, members of the state council made public two letters in which Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen expressed doubt the city would receive favorable bids on the project, and packing company officials balked at tentative design of the plant.

Huge Plant

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has ordered Omaha to have the huge plant, the first of its kind in the world, in operation by December of next year.

The plant will remove paunch manure from the wastes being dumped into the Missouri River by Omaha's packing plants. Paunch manure is taken from the second stomach of slaughtered cows, and it is not usable.

Mayor Sorensen, in a letter to officials of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, stated:

"My personal opinion is that we will either receive no bids at all, or we will receive bids completely out of line with the city's ability to pay.

"Should either of these two opinions prove to be correct, then I am of the present opinion that we should put the burden of responsibility for this problem back to where it belongs, namely, with the packers. I would recommend under this situation that the city fulfill its financial commitments of assistance to the packers, but I would place the responsibility on the packers, where I think it belongs.

Pollution Funds Are Distributed

Lincoln (AP)—The State Water Pollution Control Council Thursday allocated $1,314,301 in federal funds to 31 Nebraska communities to help finance construction of pollution abatement facilities.

The requests of all communities were satisfied except that of Omaha, which had asked for $600,000 in federal money for its paunch manure treatment plant but was allocated only $168,803 because of lack of available funds.

The largest allocation was a $225,000 grant to North Platte for construction of a sewage treatment plant. Other major allocations included $182,700 to Grand Island for an interceptor sewer, $141,620 to complete an allocation approved for Lincoln last year, and $113,350 to Columbus for a treatment plant.

The funds are for the fiscal year which began July 1.

Fourteen of the grants will be used to establish plants at communities which now are dumping untreated wastes into Nebraska waters, while the others, excepting Omaha's allocation, will be used to improve existing facilities.

Omaha had requested a maximum grant of $600.000 allowable under the federal law for its $3.5 million paunch manure plant scheduled to be under construction later this year.

State Sanitation Engineer T. A. Filipi said the relatively small allocation at least will "show Omaha officials we have done everything we can to encourage them to move ahead with the project."

Other grants included:

Gering, $76,140; Auburn, $52,170; Gothenburg, $79,500; Oakland, $26,160; Scribner, $17,750; Lyons, $17,670; Laurel, $22,710; Spencer, $19,920; Burwell, $24,300; Newman Grove, $11,460; Winside, $7,620; Silver Creek, $5,100; Dannebrog, $6,600; Boelus, $11,040; Dunbar, $8,494; Palmer, $6,840; Hadar, $7,275; Wilsonville $10,394; Bee, $5,471; Chambers, $14,000; Malmo, $9,150; Roca, $6,592; Herman, $6,540; Sutton, $10,012; Mullen, $13,020, and Emerson, $6,600.

Omaha Struggle To Meet Deadline On Manure Plant Becoming Losing Battle

The city of Omaha's struggle to meet federal deadlines for construction of a paunch manure treatment plant to reduce pollution of the Missouri River loomed more and more like a losing battle Thursday.

The Nebraska Water Pollution Control Council learned that the estimated cost of the paunch removal and incineration plant has been raised to $3.5 million, from an earlier estimate of $1.7 million, thus compounding the financing headaches of the city.

In addition, members of the state council made public two letters in which Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen expressed doubt the city would receive favorable bids on the project, and packing company officials balked at tentative design of the plant.

Huge Plant

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has ordered Omaha to have the huge plant, the first of its kind in the world, in operation by December of next year.

The plant will remove paunch manure from the wastes being dumped into the Missouri River by Omaha's packing plants. Paunch manure is taken from the second stomach of slaughtered cows, and it is not usable.

Mayor Sorensen, in a letter to officials of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, stated:

"My personal opinion is that we will either receive no bids at all, or we will receive bids completely out of line with the city's ability to pay.

"Should either of these two opinions prove to be correct, then I am of the present opinion that we should put the burden of responsibility for this problem back to where it belongs, namely, with the packers. I would recommend under this situation that the city fulfill its financial commitments of assistance to the packers, but I would place the responsibility on the packers, where I think it belongs.

WHY Grow Old? questions and answers

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q Does your Nine-Day reducing Diet have enough calories for a man? My husband, a very active man, used it faithfully for nine days with excellent results. However I feel sure that this diet doesn't have enough calories for a man He says he has gotten use to being hungry

This is too bad because I lost nine pounds on it and never was hungry a moment I am wondering if you might have one for men Please tell me how many calories this Nine-Day Diet has and how many calories a man should have while reducing.

A. My Nine-Day Diet has about a thousand calories daily. This is too low for a man because of his greater stature. A man's reducing diet should provide about sixteen hundred calories a day. I do have a diet called "Tubby Hubby Diet" If you or any of my readers would like to have it for their tubby hubby, send 10 cent and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Brave Husband

Q My husband says I am fat Do you agree with him? I am 5 feet, 6 inches tall and weigh 145 pounds

A If you have a medium frame you are only about five pounds overweight If you have a small build you should lose from 15 to 20 pounds.

Q What kind of doctors are the following dermatologist, podiatrist orthopedic doctor?

A A dermatologist is a skin specialist. A podiatrist is a foot doctor. An orthopedic physician is one who specializes in bone troubles.

A. I pulled too many hairs out and my brows look much too thin. Will the hairs grow back?

A. I feel sure they will.

Q. I suspect that my feet are flat. Is there any test I can give myself?

A. Yes There should be a space between the middle of your feet and the floor. Dampen the feet with water and then step on the floor If the entire shape of your foot appears, you have flat feet. There should be a dry area between the toes and the heel. If you suspect that you have flat feet and are having discomfort with them, you should see a specialist, either a podiatrist or a chiropodist

Persons with foot trouble may fine my exercises for weak arches helpful Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to Josphine Lowman, in care of this newspaper.

NEWS of the suburban areas

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

A vacation filled with famous places accompanied by famous faces can almost be ideal. This morning in Country Club Terrace we have just a vacation to report. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Price and their children, Terry, Marilyn-Rae, and Shaun, have just returned from a two week vacation that included well known places and faces.

After visiting relatives in Kansas City, the Price family spent three days in the Ozarks, followed by a trip to Memphis, Tenn. and to St. Louis, Mo. At Independance, Mo., the family saw the Truman Library and were also fortunate to catch a glimpse of the former president. Their trip also included stops in Springfield, Ill. and Chicago, Ill. While in Chicago, they visited Mrs. Price's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Petrikas, in their beach home. The famous faces in Chicago were the former Doublemint Twins—Mrs. Al Schwartz and Mrs. Don Plackett—who are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Price.

Other vacationers in the area have been Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hudson, who have just returned from a 10-day trip through Wyoming, Montana, and into parts of Canada. Highlights of the travel were national parks.

EASTBOROUGH

Eastborough also has a family returning from a vacation. They are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stuart. A visit with family in Boise, Idaho, was one highlight of the trip.

Eastborough also offers some moving news. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Williams have changed Lincoln addresses. Formerly of 3632 No. 11th St., they now are living at 633 E. Eldora Lane. Coming from out of town to Eastborough are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edmundson who before living at 232 West Rio Rd. were residents of Newton, Iowa.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Miss Jeanie Holbrook has been away from the area for two weeks visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Holbrook in Orchard.

It's picnic time in Lincoln Heights. Next Sunday, following the church service, the Lincoln Heights Methodist Church is having a picnic in the Belmont Park.

Travelers in the Lincoln Heights area are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spahn. They have been spending about three weeks in Fresno, Calif. attending the Spahn family reunion

Former residents who have returned to the area for a week are Mrs. Marcus Dittman and her children Dawn, Doug, and John. The Dittman family resides in Richmond, Mo

More names in the vacation news this morning are those of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Gaines and their children, Ronnie, Randy, and Scott. They have been spending two weeks trailer-traveling in New Mexico.

One girl in the Lincoln Heights area today has become a teenager. She is Janie Bockoven. In celebration of her 13th birthday, Janie has invited 12 of her special friends for a barbecue party this evening. The young lady, however, shares the birth date with her father, Norman Bockoven, who also is celebrating his birthday on Friday.

TALK of the town

It seems to be another morning of interesting chatter—There's news of a coffee, of guests, of homecomers and—if you need to be convinced that summer is on the wane—there is news of a dancing club's first party of the season.

* * *

The coffee is planned for next Tuesday morning when Mrs. Donald Devries will pay courtesy to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Devries. Mr. and Mrs. Devries and their family, have come from Oxon Hill, Md., for a visit with Mr. Devries' parents.

* * *

Arriving from Burbank, Calif., on Sunday will be Mrs. Robert Glover (Jean Towne) who will be the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. George L. Towne, until after the wedding of her sister, Miss Cindy Towne and Samuel Beler on Aug. 21. Mr. Glover will come from California on Aug. 20.

And on the evening of Friday, Aug. 20, Mrs. Towne will preside at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club in prenuptial courtesy to her granddaughter and Mr. Beler.

* * *

Those homecomers we had in mind compose a feminine foursome that hied itself off to Colorado for a week—and have returned home.

The group included Mrs. Harry Tripp, Mrs. Lloyd Chapman, Mrs. William Mulder and Mrs. Lila Bell Love who tell us that they spent a week of days touring the area and visiting vacationing Lincoln residents—and a week of evenings at the bridge table.

* * *

The Colonial Dancing Club has its first party all planned—It is to be on Friday evening, Oct. 8, at Hotel Lincoln. All of the planning was done on Wednesday evening when the new board members were the guests of the new president couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dennis, at a patio party at their home.

The board members include Mr. and Mrs Warren Andelt, secretary-treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stovall, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Christoffersen, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Olson and Dr. and Mrs. Galen Saylor.

ABBY

you're right—don't force marriage

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be facing this problem, but I am. To get right to the point, our 15-year-old daughter is "in trouble." The boy is 16. They went steady for a year. I never suspected anything like this could happen. He is such a nice boy from a good family, and we never dreamed our daughter was in danger with him. We have already talked to the boy and his parents. His parents say they will do anything we decide on. The boy says he would rather not get married, but if he has the choice of either getting married or being sent to a reformatory or a work farm, he'll marry her. Our daughter doesn't say anything, she just cries. My husband says we should force a marriage immediately. I think we should send her to a home for unwed mothers, give up the baby for adoption, and try to live down this awful mess. No outsiders know about this and we want to keep it quiet. Can you help us?

LIVING A NIGHTMARE

DEAR LIVING: No one can "force" a boy or man to marry. And it's just as well. An unwilling bridegroom makes a miserable husband and a worse father. I agree with you. Under the circumstances, your daughter would probably be better off in a home for unwed mothers. If you want the names of some homes in your area, I can provide them if you send me your name and address. No other information is necessary, and it will be strictly confidential. Good luck.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and have a problem which bugs me. I have an English pen pal about my age. She writes these real long letters telling me how popular she is and how many dates she has. She brags all over the place about her different romance and all the places she goes. I am getting awfully fed up with readng all these lies an besides, she is giving me an inferiority complex. I would like to quit writing to her. Should I just write and tell her I think she is a liar and I don't believe a word she says? Sign me—

"BUGGED"

DEAR BUGGED: It isn't necessary to be unkind or insulting. If your pen pal "bugs" you gradually reduce the correspondence and then let it die.

BIDDING QUIZ

Partner bids Three Hearts, both sides vulnerable, next player passes. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands? (Assume that the Three Heart bid shows a long suit with very little defensive strength and that its chief purpose is to block the opponents.)

1. ♠K962 ♥A5 ♦A83 ♣J872
2. ♠AQ874 ♥63 ♦KQ72 ♣A4
3. ♠852 ♥9843 ♦6 ♣AQ842
4. ♠AJ73 ♥92 ♦AKQ94 ♣A7
5. ♠AQ9875 ♥7 ♦952 ♣A86

1. Pass. The three heart bid announces a hand which does not qualify as a one bid by ordinary standards. The high-card content is usually 7, 8 or 9 points. It is mainly used as a defensive mechanism when the opener thinks that his side has a poor chance for game and that the opponents have a good chance for a game, perhaps a slam.

Since the opener announces in effect that he has less than an opening bid, and our hand is less than an an opening bid, and it customarily takes two opening bids to make a game, the best we can do is pass and hope that partner makes nine tricks (assuming that the next player also passes).

2. Four hearts. There ought to be a reasonable chance of game here. Our opening bid plus, faced by partner's opening bid minus, figures to produce ten tricks, particularly since our 15 high-card points are composed of aces, kings and queens. There should be no compunctions about raising with only two trumps. Partner is likely to have a seven-card suit.

3. Four hearts. This bid may seem strange in view of the prior comments, but the raise is entirely a strategic maneuver. There is virtually no hope of making ten tricks. The purpose of the raise is to try to persuade the opponents that we have a good hand and are trying seriously to make a game.

There is not much chance of the ruse succeeding, since the opponents can almost surely make a large number of spades or diamonds, but it can hardly hurt us to put on a bold front. We might even get lucky and get away scot-free with the attempted larceny.

4. Six hearts. No guarantees go with this bid either, but there ought to be at least a chance of making six. If partner has seven hearts to the K-Q-J and a side king, or some similar holding, he will probably make the slam.

5. Pass. Don't try to fight City Hall. There can be no game, and a three spade bid (forcing) would almost surely make matters worse. It must be borne in mind that partner has a poor hand which is probably suitable for heart play only. Why look for trouble?

Bridal Shower Honoree

A late-summer bride-elect who was honored by office co-workers Wednesday evening is Miss Jeanette Kay Rayburn of Beatrice, who has chosen Saturday, Aug. 28, as the date for her marriage to Larry E. Purdy.

Twenty-four feminine employes at the State Department of Health presented a bridal shower to the honoree at a party held at the home of Mrs. Roy R. Harding.

Seated (from the left) are Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood, Mrs. Edward Hafer, Miss Rayburn, her fiance's mother, Mrs. Elmer Purdy of Crete, and Miss Kathy Bohuslavsky; and standing, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Bert Schultz, Miss Helen McAllister, Miss Anna Smrha, Mrs. Libbie Kouba and Mrs. William Goshorn.

ABBY

you're right—don't force marriage

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I would be facing this problem, but I am. To get right to the point, our 15-year-old daughter is "in trouble." The boy is 16. They went steady for a year. I never suspected anything like this could happen. He is such a nice boy from a good family, and we never dreamed our daughter was in danger with him. We have already talked to the boy and his parents. His parents say they will do anything we decide on. The boy says he would rather not get married, but if he has the choice of either getting married or being sent to a reformatory or a work farm, he'll marry her. Our daughter doesn't say anything, she just cries. My husband says we should force a marriage immediately. I think we should send her to a home for unwed mothers, give up the baby for adoption, and try to live down this awful mess. No outsiders know about this and we want to keep it quiet. Can you help us?

LIVING A NIGHTMARE

DEAR LIVING: No one can "force" a boy or man to marry. And it's just as well. An unwilling bridegroom makes a miserable husband and a worse father. I agree with you. Under the circumstances, your daughter would probably be better off in a home for unwed mothers. If you want the names of some homes in your area, I can provide them if you send me your name and address. No other information is necessary, and it will be strictly confidential. Good luck.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and have a problem which bugs me. I have an English pen pal about my age. She writes these real long letters tellng me how popular she is and how many dates she has. She brags all over the place about her different romance and all the places she goes. I am getting awfully fed up with readng all these lies an besides, she is giving me an inferiority complex. I would like to quit writing to her. Should I just write and tell her I think she is a liar and I don't believe a word she says? Sign me—

"BUGGED"

DEAR BUGGED: It isn't necessary to be unkind or insulting. If your pen pal "bugs" you gradually reduce the correspondence and then let it die.

Mail Call

Before you start feeling sorry for the service academy coaches because you think they are restricted in their recruiting by the appointment system, you might check this letter from Dan Peterson, Plebe basketball coach at the Naval Academy.

"I would deeply appreciate it if you could jot down the names and sizes of the boys you think will be the top two or three college basketball prospects in your state this year," Peterson writes.

"I realize the basketball season is a long way off and it may be difficult to come up with names right off the top of your head but I would be glad to get any names you send," he continues. "The reason I am starting so early is that I would like to get a flying start on this year's recruiting and, since we do have to get an earlier start on boys for the Academy, this is a must.

"Naturally, I am looking for big boys, 6-4 and over. We have more guards than we know what to do with but we need the big man vitally. We can, with waivers, take a boy up to 6-8. But, don't hestitate to mention any 6-9 or 6-10 kids. Those boys have a funny habit of turning out to be only 6-7 or 6-8 when they get measured.

"What am I looking for in a ball player? The same as every other coach: quickness, good hands and a good competitive instinct."

COMMENT—Apparently they have adjustable rulers at the Naval Academy to measure those 6-9 and 6-10 boys.

Nebraskans Tops In Tennis

Gene Liewer, publisher of the Osmond Republican, points out that Marty Riessen, who competed in the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament recently and is an alternate on the U.S. Davis Cup team, has roots in Nebraska.

Liewer notes that Marty's father, Clare, who is now tennis coach at Northwestern, was born and raised at Osmond.

However, the Riessen family had moved to Hinsdale, Ill., before Marty was born.

Thanks For Girls' Coverage

Randall Lambert, who has worked diligently to put girls track and field back on the Nebraska scene, writes to thank "The Star staff for the coverage you have given to girls track and field the past year.

"I am sure that it has contributed to the increased interest we have experienced. There are about 300-400 girls competing this year.

"This year all except one from our teams advanced through the preliminaries of the national championships. We also won four places this year as compared to a high of two other years.

"Beatrice made a very good showing. The girls from that area did not place in any events in the finals, but they all managed to get to the semis. This was exceptional considering it was their first year.

"Carol Moseke is the first girl from this area to make our national team and she currently is touring with the U.S. team that just competed in Russia. She will be throwing at several of the meets on the tour.

"She is the most consistent discus thrower of the three American competitors. In the finals of the nationals, she had all three of her throws out farther than any other single throw by the two girls who placed in front of her. However, she could not beat their best preliminary throw."

COMMENT—Lambert is so well thought of for his work in girls track and field that he has been named to the National AAU Women's Track and Field Committee, the National Women's Cross Country Committee and the International Section of the Women's Track and Field Committee.

Acknowledging Thanks

Acknowledging letters of thanks from Dorothy and Christie Schwartzkopf for coverage given to this year's State Ladies Golf Tournament and from Lincoln Municipal Golfers' Association president Dick Thoene for coverage given to last weekend's Governor's Sweepstakes.

College All-Stars To Meet Browns As Solid Underdogs

Chicago (AP)—The College All-Stars, hoping for an upset with four good passers and three fleet receivers, meet the Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League, Friday night in Soldier Field as two to three touchdown underdogs.

The advance ticket sale has been the strongest of recent years with a crowd of 65,000 plus expected. However, the forecast is for partly cloudy, hot, and humid weather with afternoon and evening thundershowers likely.

The game will be televised by ABC starting at 8 p.m. CST.

Coach Otto Graham named Roger Staubach of Navy, 1963 Heisman Trophy winner and unsigned because of navy duty by any professional team, as his starting quarterback.

But back of him, Graham has Bob Timberlake of Michigan, a stout runner as well as a passer belonging to the New York Giants; John Huarte of Notre Dame, signed by the New York Jets; and Craig Morton of California, who belongs to the Dallas Cowboys.

The game could well develop into a test as to which New York team, the Giants or the Jets, came up with the better man.

Timberlake must challenge Giant veteran Gary Wood. Huarte must beat out among others, Joe Namath, the $400,000 tricky knee sensation.

If the All-Stars win, it probably must be by passing. The men rated top targets are Fred Biletnikoff of Florida State, signed by the Oakland Raiders, and Jack Snow of Notre Dame, now with the Los Angeles Rams.

Robert Hayes of Florida A&M, the Olympic sprint champion, figures to be tough to stop but he must control his speed to be a top receiver.

As for the Browns, although they deny over-confidence, they did not even bother to work out after arriving Thursday afternoon. Their game is keyed to the passing of Frank Ryan and the running of Jimmy Brown and Ernie Green.

All-Star linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois, who goes to the Chicago Bears, gets the assignment of trying to halt Brown.

This is the 32nd game in the famous series that officially starts off the football season and is conducted for the benefit of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The pros lead 20-9-2. It is the eighth All-Star team coached by Graham, who prefers the low pressure coaching life of the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., and makes this his only limelight appearance.

Graham's teams have scored two upsets and lost five times but his games have mostly been thrillers, accounting for the rising crowd interest.

In 1963, the All-Stars tripped the Green Bay Packers 20-17, and although they bowed last year to the Chicago Bears 28-17, they were ahead 10-7 at the half.

If the All-Stars can muster a running game it probably will be sparked by Tucker Frederickson of Auburn, now a New York Giant and termed by Graham "A great one."

As for Staubach, if he could go into pro football, Graham ranged his prospects as "Anywhere from exceptional to fantastic."

Heads For 3rd Straight Title

. . . IN CITY GOLF MEET

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Dorothy Schwartzkopf all but wrapped up her third straight Lincoln City Ladies Golf Championship Thursday with a one-over-par 79 at Pioneers for a three-day total of 242 and an 11-stroke lead over runner-up Jean Hyland as they enter the final round today at the Hillcrest Country Club.

"It looked like it was going to be another day like yesterday (Wednesday when she shot 84 at Hillcrest) when I started with a seven (double-bogey) on the first hole," Mrs. Schwartzkopf said. "I thought to myself, 'oh-oh, this has to stop.'

"And from then I played well except for the 10th hole where I took a six."

After the double bogey start, Dorothy came back to par the next seven holes, then birdied the ninth for a one-over-par 40 at the turn.

The reigning state champion birdied the 16th and 17th holes for a par 39 on the back side, chipping in from just off the green for the birdie on the par-3, 145-yard 17th.

Mrs. Hyland, the only competitor with a shot at Dorothy's crown, faded from contention with a three-over-par 81 Thursday despite an improving putter.

"I was putting much better today (Thursday)," Jean observed, "which makes me feel a little better."

Mrs. Hyland, a seven-time city champion, sank putts of 12 feet for a birdie on No. 4 and 15-feet for a birdie at No. 14. She barely missed an eagle putt from 13 feet on the par 5,390-yard 16th.

But while Dorothy was moving out to the 11-stroke margin, much of the ladies' attention Thursday was focused on Flo Koser, a golfer who broke 100 for the first time after taking up the game only a year ago.

Mrs. Koser, who points out, "I never saw a golf ball until I came to Nebraska," started the game a year ago at the urging of her husband, Doug, whom she calls "about an 84" shooter.

"I was raised in Jersey City," she says with a marked eastern accent despite living in Nebraska the past 19 years, "and there just wasn't much opportunity to play golf there."

Her 98 Thursday boosted her from second place into a seven-stroke lead in the second flight.

The golfers will begin teeing off in the final round at 8 a.m. at Hillcrest today.

Fairgrounds Track Returns Record Daily Double Payoff

. . . LITTLE PHIL PAYS $151.60

The daily double returned a record $1,510.40 at the Nebraska State Fairgrounds track Thursday on the combined wins of Roxie's Rose (No. 1) in the first race and Little Phil, with the longest odds on the board, in the second

Little Phil, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Raasch of Norfolk and jockeyed by Mitchell Shirota, had started only one other time this year —that being at the Lincoln track where he finished last.

The winner's payoff price, $151.60, was the largest since Aug. 18, 1962 when Sooner Flash won and returned $137.00.

Sixteen people held the winning daily double combination which was the largest in the history of the Lincoln track and third largest in Nebraska history. The largest ever paid in Nebraska was at Ak-Sar-Ben on July 2, 1940 when Billy Skillful and All Sweet combined to pay $4,897.80.

Little Phil led or was near the lead the entire race and had to hold off a late bid by Burning Candle to win by a neck.

Iowan Ed Sunberg's Roxie's Rose was declared the winner of the first after Starla, who was leading at the wire, ducked the whip of her jockey, bumped Roxie's Rose and was disqualified by the stewards.

The National Hereford Purse feature race was won by Lincolnite Benny Fogelson's Little Gap, ridden by the track's leading jockey Boyd Morris.

The winner came from far off the pace in the final turn to beat place horse Irish Doc by one-length.

Mutual handle was $207,098, while track attendance was 4,607.

Islander Coach Named To Head Legion All-Stars

York—Grand Island coach Don Hember was named coach of the Nebraska Legion Junior all-star team which will meet the Kansas all-stars in a three-game series at Grand Island, Aug. 21-22.

Hember has been coach of the Grand Island team for the past two seasons. His club won the state title in 1964 and finished second behind Omaha Pepsi in this year's tourney.

The 16-player Nebraska squad will be announced following completion of the State Class B tourney at Grant next week.

The only team whose players will not be eligible for the all-star game is Omaha Pepsi which moves ahead to the regional competition in Salina, Kan., Aug. 19.

Pepsi's Stilen, Fila Combine To Dethrone Grand Island

. . . IN STATE LEGION FINALS

Thursday's Results
JUNIORS
Omaha Pepsi 4, Grand Island 1.

York — Omaha Pepsi returned to the throne in Nebraska American Legion Junior baseball play Thursday night, stopping defending champion Grand Island, 4-1, on a combined five-hitter by lefthanders George Stilen and Ken Fila.

Pepsi, now moves ahead to the seven-state regional tourney to begin at Salina, Kan., Aug. 19. The Omaha entry is no stranger to regional play, having won both state and regional titles en route to a third place finish in the 1963 Little World Series.

A crowd of 2,810 watched the championship contest, bringing the attendance in the six-day tourney to 10,320.

Stilen, a 6-2 southpaw, earned his third pitching victory of the tournament, but needed help from Fila after Grand Island had put runners on second and third with one out in the top of the eighth inning.

Fila fanned Doug Townsend and got Dick Johnson to fly out to rightfielder Bill Myers to stop the Islander threat and then set the side down in order in the ninth.

Pepsi earned revenge against Grand Island righthander Bob Humiston, who had beaten Don Kraft's club, 10-7, earlier in the double elimination tourney.

The young righthander walked Stilen and Larry Gomez after one was out in the third inning. Chuck Vacek then lofted a soft liner into left field to score Stilen. Humiston then retired Myers and the dangerous Frank Stanek on infield outs.

Pepsis gave Stilen a bigger cushion with a pair of unearned runs in the sixth inning. Emil Boryca, who had singled, and Joe Riha, who reached base on Chuck Rombach's two-out error, both scored when Terry Nauslar doubled.

Boryca, who had gone three-for-four against Humiston Sunday, repeated the performance in the title game. He gave the champions their fourth run with a leadoff home run in the eighth.

Grand Island pushed its only run across in the seventh inning when Dick Johnson walked. Tom Swiatoviak sent him to third with a single and Tom Hardekopf drove him in with a sacrifice fly to left field.

Stilen was chased in the eighth when Humiston reached base safety on an error, Marty Brown sent a fly ball to deep left center, and Chuck Rombach singled.

Kraft decided it was time for Fila, who had pitched a 6-2 win over the Islanders Tuesday night.

It was the second win in three tourney appearances for Pepsi over Grand Island. Pepsi will carry a 22-8 record into the regional tourney. The defending champions closed with a 29-15 record.

Mail Call

Before you start feeling sorry for the service academy coaches because you think they are restricted in their recruiting by the appointment system, you might check this letter from Dan Peterson, Plebe basketball coach at the Naval Academy.

"I would deeply appreciate it if you could jot down the names and sizes of the boys you think will be the top two or three college basketball prospects in your state this year," Peterson writes.

"I realize the basketball season is a long way off and it may be difficult to come up with names right off the top of your head but I would be glad to get any names you send," he continues. "The reason I am starting so early is that I would like to get a flying start on this year's recruiting and, since we do have to get an earlier start on boys for the Academy, this is a must.

"Naturally, I am looking for big boys, 6-4 and over. We have more guards than we know what to do with but we need the big man vitally. We can, with waivers, take a boy up to 6-8. But, don't hestitate to mention any 6-9 or 6-10 kids. Those boys have a funny habit of turning out to be only 6-7 or 6-8 when they get measured.

"What am I looking for in a ball player? The same as every other coach: quickness, good hands and a good competitive instinct."

COMMENT—Apparently they have adjustable rulers at the Naval Academy to measure those 6-9 and 6-10 boys.

Nebraskans Tops In Tennis

Gene Liewer, publisher of the Osmond Republican, points out that Marty Riessen, who competed in the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament recently and is an alternate on the U.S. Davis Cup team, has roots in Nebraska.

Liewer notes that Marty's father, Clare, who is now tennis coach at Northwestern, was born and raised at Osmond.

However, the Riessen family had moved to Hinsdale, Ill., before Marty was born.

Thanks For Girls' Coverage

Randall Lambert, who has worked diligently to put girls track and field back on the Nebraska scene, writes to thank "The Star staff for the coverage you have given to girls track and field the past year.

"I am sure that it has contributed to the increased interest we have experienced. There are about 300-400 girls competing this year.

"This year all except one from our teams advanced through the preliminaries of the national championships. We also won four places this year as compared to a high of two other years.

"Beatrice made a very good showing. The girls from that area did not place in any events in the finals, but they all managed to get to the semis. This was exceptional considering it was their first year.

"Carol Moseke is the first girl from this area to make our national team and she currently is touring with the U.S. team that just competed in Russia. She will be throwing at several of the meets on the tour.

"She is the most consistent discus thrower of the three American competitors. In the finals of the nationals, she had all three of her throws out farther than any other single throw by the two girls who placed in front of her. However, she could not beat their best preliminary throw."

COMMENT—Lambert is so well thought of for his work in girls track and field that he has been named to the National AAU Women's Track and Field Committee, the National Women's Cross Country Committee and the International Section of the Women's Track and Field Committee.

Acknowledging Thanks

Acknowledging letters of thanks from Dorothy and Christie Schwartzkopf for coverage given to this year's State Ladies Golf Tournament and from Lincoln Municipal Golfers' Association president Dick Thoene for coverage given to last weekend's Governor's Sweepstakes.

College All-Stars To Meet Browns As Solid Underdogs

Chicago (AP)—The College All-Stars, hoping for an upset with four good passers and three fleet receivers, meet the Cleveland Browns, champions of the National Football League, Friday night in Soldier Field as two to three touchdown underdogs.

The advance ticket sale has been the strongest of recent years with a crowd of 65,000 plus expected. However, the forecast is for partly cloudy, hot, and humid weather with afternoon and evening thundershowers likely.

The game will be televised by ABC starting at 8 p.m. CST.

Coach Otto Graham named Roger Staubach of Navy, 1963 Heisman Trophy winner and unsigned because of navy duty by any professional team, as his starting quarterback.

But back of him, Graham has Bob Timberlake of Michigan, a stout runner as well as a passer belonging to the New York Giants; John Huarte of Notre Dame, signed by the New York Jets; and Craig Morton of California, who belongs to the Dallas Cowboys.

The game could well develop into a test as to which New York team, the Giants or the Jets, came up with the better man.

Timberlake must challenge Giant veteran Gary Wood. Huarte must beat out among others, Joe Namath, the $400,000 tricky knee sensation.

If the All-Stars win, it probably must be by passing. The men rated top targets are Fred Biletnikoff of Florida State, signed by the Oakland Raiders, and Jack Snow of Notre Dame, now with the Los Angeles Rams.

Robert Hayes of Florida A&M, the Olympic sprint champion, figures to be tough to stop but he must control his speed to be a top receiver.

As for the Browns, although they deny over-confidence, they did not even bother to work out after arriving Thursday afternoon. Their game is keyed to the passing of Frank Ryan and the running of Jimmy Brown and Ernie Green.

All-Star linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois, who goes to the Chicago Bears, gets the assignment of trying to halt Brown.

This is the 32nd game in the famous series that officially starts off the football season and is conducted for the benefit of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

The pros lead 20-9-2. It is the eighth All-Star team coached by Graham, who prefers the low pressure coaching life of the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., and makes this his only limelight appearance.

Graham's teams have scored two upsets and lost five times but his games have mostly been thrillers, accounting for the rising crowd interest.

In 1963, the All-Stars tripped the Green Bay Packers 20-17, and although they bowed last year to the Chicago Bears 28-17, they were ahead 10-7 at the half.

If the All-Stars can muster a running game it probably will be sparked by Tucker Frederickson of Auburn, now a New York Giant and termed by Graham "A great one."

As for Staubach, if he could go into pro football, Graham ranged his prospects as "Anywhere from exceptional to fantastic."

DOROTHY INCREASES LEAD

. . . IN CITY GOLF MEET

WHEW, IT'S IN . . . Miriam Sanders gives sigh of relief after sinking putt.

Dorothy Schwartzkopf all but wrapped up her third straight Lincoln City Ladies Golf Championship Thursday with a one-over-par 79 at Pioneers for a three-day total of 242 and an 11-stroke lead over runner-up Jean Hyland as they enter the final round today at the Hillcrest Country Club.

"It looked like it was going to be another day like yesterday (Wednesday when she shot 84 at Hillcrest) when I started with a seven (double-bogey) on the first hole," Mrs. Schwartzkopf said. "I thought to myself, 'oh-oh, this has to stop.'

"And from then I played well except for the 10th hole where I took a six."

After the double bogey start, Dorothy came back to par the next seven holes, then birdied the ninth for a one-over-par 40 at the turn.

The reigning state champion birdied the 16th and 17th holes for a par 39 on the back side, chipping in from just off the green for the birdie on the par-3, 145-yard 17th.

Mrs. Hyland, the only competitor with a shot at Dorothy's crown, faded from contention with a three-over-par 81 Thursday despite an improving putter.

"I was putting much better today (Thursday)," Jean observed, "which makes me feel a little better."

Mrs. Hyland, a seven-time city champion, sank putts of 12 feet for a birdie on No. 4 and 15-feet for a birdie at No. 14. She barely missed an eagle putt from 13 feet on the par 5,390-yard 16th.

But while Dorothy was moving out to the 11-stroke margin, much of the ladies' attention Thursday was focused on Flo Koser, a golfer who broke 100 for the first time after taking up the game only a year ago.

Mrs. Koser, who points out, "I never saw a golf ball until I came to Nebraska," started the game a year ago at the urging of her husband, Doug, whom she calls "about an 84" shooter.

"I was raised in Jersey City," she says with a marked eastern accent despite living in Nebraska the past 19 years, "and there just wasn't much opportunity to play golf there."

Her 98 Thursday boosted her from second place into a seven-stroke lead in the second flight.

The golfers will begin teeing off in the final round at 8 a.m. at Hillcrest today.

Fairgrounds Track Returns Record Daily Double Payoff

. . . LITTLE PHIL PAYS $151.60

The daily double returned a record $1,510.40 at the Nebraska State Fairgrounds track Thursday on the combined wins of Roxie's Rose (No. 1) in the first race and Little Phil, with the longest odds on the board, in the second

Little Phil, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Raasch of Norfolk and jockeyed by Mitchell Shirota, had started only one other time this year—that being at the Lincoln track where he finished last.

The winner's payoff price, $151.60, was the largest since Aug. 18, 1962 when Sooner Flash won and returned $137.00.

Sixteen people held the winning daily double combination which was the largest in the history of the Lincoln track and third largest in Nebraska history. The largest ever paid in Nebraska was at Ak-Sar-Ben on July 2, 1940 when Billy Skillful and All Sweet combined to pay $4,897.80.

Little Phil led or was near the lead the entire race and had to hold off a late bid by Burning Candle to win by a neck.

Iowan Ed Sunberg's Roxie's Rose was declared the winner of the first after Starla, who was leading at the wire, ducked the whip of her jockey, bumped Roxie's Rose and was disqualified by the stewards.

The National Hereford Purse feature race was won by Lincolnite Benny Fogelson's Little Gap, ridden by the track's leading jockey Boyd Morris.

The winner came from far off the pace in the final turn to beat place horse Irish Doc by one-length.

Mutual handle was $207,098, while track attendance was 4,607.

Islander Coach Named To Head Legion All-Stars

York—Grand Island coach Don Hember was named coach of the Nebraska Legion Junior all-star team which will meet the Kansas all-stars in a three-game series at Grand Island, Aug. 21-22.

Hember has been coach of the Grand Island team for the past two seasons. His club won the state title in 1964 and finished second behind Omaha Pepsi in this year's tourney.

The 16-player Nebraska squad will be announced following completion of the State Class B tourney at Grant next week.

The only team whose players will not be eligible for the all-star game is Omaha Pepsi which moves ahead to the regional competition in Salina, Kan., Aug. 19.

Pepsi's Stilen, Fila Combine To Dethrone Grand Island

. . . IN STATE LEGION FINALS

JUNIORS
Omaha Pepsi 4, Grand Island 1.

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

York — Omaha Pepsi returned to the throne in Nebraska American Legion Junior baseball play Thursday night, stopping defending champion Grand Island, 4-1, on a combined five-hitter by lefthanders George Stilen and Ken Fila.

Pepsi, now moves ahead to the seven-state regional tourney to begin at Salina, Kan., Aug. 19. The Omaha entry is no stranger to regional play, having won both state and regional titles en route to a third place finish in the 1963 Little World Series.

A crowd of 2,810 watched the championship contest, bringing the attendance in the six-day tourney to 10,320.

Stilen, a 6-2 southpaw, earned his third pitching victory of the tournament, but needed help from Fila after Grand Island had put runners on second and third with one out in the top of the eighth inning.

Fila fanned Doug Townsend and got Dick Johnson to fly out to rightfielder Bill Myers to stop the Islander threat and then set the side down in order in the ninth.

Pepsi earned revenge against Grand Island righthander Bob Humiston, who had beaten Don Kraft's club, 10-7, earlier in the double elimination tourney.

The young righthander walked Stilen and Larry Gomez after one was out in the third inning. Chuck Vacek then lofted a soft liner into left field to score Stilen. Humiston then retired Myers and the dangerous Frank Stanek on infield outs.

Pepsis gave Stilen a bigger cushion with a pair of unearned runs in the sixth inning. Emil Boryca, who had singled, and Joe Riha, who reached base on Chuck Rombach's two-out error, both scored when Terry Nauslar doubled.

Boryca, who had gone three for-four against Humiston Sunday, repeated the performance in the title game. He gave the champions their fourth run with a leadoff home run in the eighth.

Grand Island pushed its only run across in the seventh inning when Dick Johnson walked, Tom Swiatoviak sent him to third with a single and Tom Hardekopf drove him in with a sacrifice fly to left field.

Stilen was chased in the eighth when Humiston reached base safely on an error, Marty Brown sent a fly ball to deep left center, and Chuck Rombach singled.

Kraft decided it was time for Fila, who had pitched a 6-2 win over the Islanders Tuesday night.

It was the second win in three tourney appearances for Pepsi over Grand Island. Pepsi will carry a 22-8 record into the regional tourney. The defending champions closed with a 29-15 record.

Sikes Grabs 1st Round Lead In Golf Classic

. . . AT WHITEMARSH LINKS

Whitemarsh, Pa. (AP) — Dick Sikes, generally acknowledged as pro golf's 1964 rookie of the year, rode a hot putter to an eight-under-par 64 Thursday for the first round lead in the $125,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The two-time former U.S. Public Links and NCAA champion blazed to a four-stroke lead over four bunched at 68-Bruce Devlin, Bob Charles, Bobby Nichols and Kel Nagle.

Sikes, 25, used only 24 putts as he missed by one stroke the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course record of 63 set two years ago in the Pro-Am Tourney by Gary Player.

Sikes fired eight birdies in his sensational first round of the 72-hole event.

Sikes had rounds of 32-32, dropping birdie putts of 8, 15 and 12 feet on the front nine. He just lipped the cup on Nos. 6 and 8, setting for pars. On the back nine, the tall 155-pounder included putts of 20 and 25 feet as he carded four more birds.

Devlin, from Australia, and Charles, of New Zealand, each shot 34-34—68 over the par 36-36—72 Whitemarsh course for a one-stroke lead over six dead-locked at 69.

The 27-year-old Devlin has experienced a rewarding year from a monetary standpoint—he is the tour's fifth leading money winner. But it's been a frustrating period from a golf standpoint — he hasn't won a tournament.

Charles won the Tucson Open in February and hasn't visited the winner's circle since then.

Koufax Whips Braves; Leads Majors In Wins

. . . GIANTS BOMB REDS

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sandy Koufax pitched himself to within one victory of becoming the first 20-game winner this season as the National League-leading Dodgers whipped Milwaukee 6-3 Thursday night.

Koufax pitched a seven-hitter and struck out 12, winning his 19th game against only four defeats. Joe Torre and Mack Jones homered for all of the Braves' runs. Jim Lefebvre drove in three Dodger runs, two with a third-inning homer.

San Francisco annihilated Cincinnati 18-7 as Willie Mays clouted his 26th and 27th home runs. Len Gabrielson, Jim Hart and Tom Haller also homered for the Giants while Gordy Coleman connected twice and Deron Johnson and Pete Rose once each for the Reds.

Roberto Clemente rapped three hits, including a homer and pitcher Don Cardwell unloaded a three-run homer as Pittsburgh won its fifth straight game with an 11-3 triumphk over the New Yor Mets.

Rich Allen singled and scored the tying run in the fourth, then ripped a two-run triple in the fifth, sparking Philadelphia to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

St. Louis beat Houston 3-1 as Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter for his 14th triumph against eight defeats. Tim McCarver drove in the first two Cardinals runs with a sacrifice fly and an infield out.

The American League-leading Minnesota Twins defeated Washington 8-5 with Joe Nossek belting a three-run homer in the third. Zoilo Versalles also homered for the Twins.

Sam McDowell scattered 10 hits and struck out 10 as he posted his 12th victory against seven defeats in Cleveland's 5-2 triumph over Detroit. Leon Wagner and Rocky Colavito each drove in two runs.

Whitey Ford picked up his 13th victory against eight losses, pitching a five-hitter as the New York Yankees blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0. Elston Howard hit a two-run homer in the third.

Kansas City's Fred Talbot recorded his 10th victory against six defeats and singled in a run in the Athletics' 5-1 decision over Boston.

Woman Catches American Eel

An American eel, a rare visitor in this region, was caught by Mrs. Vic Slama of Columbus while fishing near te Loup powerhouse at Columbus.

The serpent-like catch was 29 inches long and weighed 2 pounds, 8 ounces.

State Game Commission Fisheries technicians note that every once in awhile an eel will be caught in the Missouri River. Even these are rarities, however, since the eels spawn only in tropical waters of the Atlantic Ocean. They migrate to fresh water to mature, then return to salt water to spawn and die.

—IN GAL'S STATE MEET—

Lincoln Softball Team Looms As Title Threat

Fremont—Before anybody hands the Nebraska Amateur Softball Association Tournament title to Fremont Dier's Mustangs, the No. 1 seeded team, best take a look at Lincoln Gerry's.

The Mary Jo Mullen-coached outfit edged the Mustangs, 5-4, in Lincoln last Saturday to give assurance that the 16-team field is evenly bunched.

The tournament gets underway Friday and runs through Sunday at Moeller Field here. Gerry's begins its bid Saturday against the Winnebago Bravettes.

Gerry's is 10-2 for the season, 8-1 in Class A city league play and that's come without No. 1 pitcher Terry Baumbach on occasion. "Terry's been working nights," catcher Jody Martin says, "and hasn't been able to throw some of the nights we've played."

That put a little burden on Mary Milburn, the principal reliever and sometimes outfielder.

A three-year title reign has come due to "a strong infield," Jody says. "We've been playing together for about four years and since we've known each other for that long a time it gives us a lot of teamwork."

Carol French, a physical education teacher at Millard Lefler Junior High, encouraged some of her students to get into city league basketball and softball and got Gerry's as a sponsor. The girls have left junior high by now but the team remains mostly intact.

It has picked up two players for the tournament. Barb Ferguson, who has pitched in regional softball competition before, will back up Miss Baumbach and Jo Heinrichs will spell Jody at catcher.

That tight infield includes Virginia Peters at first base, Nancy Shaw at second, Mardy Pohlman at third and Donna Jones at shortstop.

Patti Webster, Barb Adams, Carrie Stoltenberg, Connie Compton, and Judy Kretschmar switch off in the outfield.

The winner of the state tournament, an official American Softball Association affair, will go to Topeka, Kan., for the regional tournament. That winner will go to the nationals.

Sikes Grabs 1st Round Lead In Golf Classic

. . . AT WHITEMARSH LINKS

Whitemarsh, Pa. (AP) — Dick Sikes, generally acknowledged as pro golf's 1964 rookie of the year, rode a hot putter to an eight-under-par 64 Thursday for the first round lead in the $125,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

The two-time former U.S. Public Links and NCAA champion blazed to a four-stroke lead over four bunched at 68-Bruce Devlin, Bob Charles, Bobby Nichols and Kel Nagle.

Sikes, 25, used only 24 putts as he missed by one stroke the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course record of 63 set two years ago in the Pro-Am Tourney by Gary Player.

Sikes fired eight birdies in his sensational first round of the 72-hole event.

Sikes had rounds of 32-32, dropping birdie putts of 8, 15 and 12 feet on the front nine. He just lipped the cup on Nos. 6 and 8, setting for pars. On the back nine, the tall 155-pounder included putts of 20 and 25 feet as he carded four more birds.

Devlin, from Australia, and Charles, of New Zealand, each shot 34-34—68 over the par 36-36—72 Whitemarsh course for a one-stroke lead over six dead-locked at 69.

The 27-year-old Devlin has experienced a rewarding year from a monetary standpoint—he is the tour's fifth leading money winner. But it's been a frustrating period from a golf standpoint — he hasn't won a tournament.

Charles won the Tucson Open in February and hasn't visited the winner's circle since then.

—IN GAL'S STATE MEET—

Lincoln Softball Team Looms As Title Threat

Fremont—Before anybody hands the Nebraska Amateur Softball Association Tournament title to Fremont Dier's Mustangs, the No. 1 seeded team, best take a look at Lincoln Gerry's.

The Mary Jo Mullen-coached outfit edged the Mustangs, 5-4, in Lincoln last Saturday to give assurance that the 16-team field is evenly bunched.

The tournament gets underway Friday and runs through Sunday at Moeller Field here. Gerry's begins its bid Saturday against the Winnebago Bravettes.

Gerry's is 10-2 for the season, 8-1 in Class A city league play and that's come without No. 1 pitcher Terry Baumbach on occasion. "Terry's been working nights," catcher Jody Martin says, "and hasn't been able to throw some of the nights we've played."

That put a little burden on Mary Milburn, the principal reliever and sometimes outfielder.

A three-year title reign has come due to "a strong infield," Jody says. "We've been playing together for about four years and since we've known each other for that long a time it gives us a lot of teamwork."

Carol French, a physical education teacher at Millard Lefler Junior High, encouraged some of her students to get into city league basketball and softball and got Gerry's as a sponsor. The girls have left junior high by now but the team remains mostly intact.

It has picked up two players for the tournament. Barb Ferguson, who has pitched in regional softball competition before, will back up Miss Baumbach and Jo Heinrichs will spell Jody at catcher.

That tight infield includes Virginia Peters at first base, Nancy Shaw at second, Mardy Pohlman at third and Donna Jones at shortstop.

Patti Webster, Barb Adams, Carrie Stoltenberg, Connie Compton, and Judy Kretschmar switch off in the outfield.

The winner of the state tournament, an official American Softball Association affair, will go to Topeka, Kan., for the regional tournament. That winner will go to the nationals.

Woman Catches American Eel

An American eel, a rare visitor in this region, was caught by Mrs. Vic Slama of Columbus while fishing near te Loup powerhouse at Columbus.

The serpent-like catch was 29 inches long and weighed 2 pounds, 8 ounces.

State Game Commission Fisheries technicians note that every once in awhile an eel will be caught in the Missouri River. Even these are rarities, however, since the eels spawn only in tropical waters of the Atlantic Ocean. They migrate to fresh water to mature, then return to salt water to spawn and die.

King Urges Dispatch Of Examiners

Washington (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. urged President Johnson Thursday to send federal examiners into certain key areas of the South immediately after he signs the voting bill in order to speed registration.

"The President assured me they will look into this and asked me to talk with the attorney general before leaving Washington," King said.

The civil rights leader talked with reporters after what he called a "very fruitful and meaningful hour" of discussion with the President.

More Demonstrations

King predicted there will be an increase in demonstrations in the North to call attention to the problems of jobs, housing and schools.

Later King made his final appearance in Washington at an outdoor rally in a Northwest Side schoolyard.

A crowd estimated by police at more than 6,000 heard him recall Aug. 28, 1963 —the day of the mass civil right march on Washington.

Dreams

Then, King said, referring to a speech he made at that rally, "I tried to tell myself about a dream I had.

"I must honestly say to you I have seen my dreams turned into a nightmare," he added, citing the recent civil rights killings in Alabama and Mississippi.

"In spite of this, I do not despair," King said.

"I still have a dream that Mississippi, a closed society, will be an open society. . .

"I still have a dream that Alabama—the heart of Dixie —will have a heart of love. . .

'That Great America'

"I still have a dream that we will bring into being that great America and be able to sing, "Glory, hallelujah."

After the rally, King led a night march to the White House along Washington streets to thank the President for his public support of a District of Columbia home rule bill pending in Congress.

The President has appealed anew to the House for fast action on a bill passed by the Senate to give a degree of home rule to the District of Columbia. The Senate has passed five similar bills in recent years only to have them die in the House.

Union College Graduates 16

Sixteen Union College 1965 summer session seniors received their coveted parchments in a formal graduation ceremony which was held Thursday evening in the College View Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Elder Erwin Gane, instructor of religion at Union, was the principal speaker.

Through his commencement address entitled, "Surrender for Service," he challenged the class — who chose as their aim, "Build for Character, not for Fame" — to take up their cross of self-denial and follow wherever the Lord leads.

The class elected as their president, James Roberton of Colbert, Washington; secretary-treasurer, Evelyn Louise Campbell of Clifton, Colorado; and as class advisor, Elder R. M. Hillier, instructor at College View Academy.

David Wolkwitz, one of the summer graduates, provided the special music. He sang, "Only One Life." The processional and recessional was played by Robert Murray, assistant professor of music at Union.

Dr. G. L. Caviness, dean of the college, presented the diplomas to the following 16 graduates:

Robert William Anderson, B.S., Lincoln; Basil Richard Backy, B.S., Lincoln; Evelyn Louise Campbell, B.S., Clifton, Colo.; Martin Harvey Dirksen, B.A., Hutchinson, Kan.; Elizabeth Ann Elliott, B.S., Mexico, Mo.; Paul Masao Kobayashi, B.A., Kauai, Hawaii; Guenter Krzykowski, B.S., Lincoln; Lonnie Darrell Leui, B.S., Martin, So. Bill To Revise Power Review Unit Withdrawn

Nebraska's Legislature agreed unanimously Thursday to the withdrawl of a bill revising the 1963 law which created the Nebraska Power Review Board.

Chief sponsor Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, who last week made the withdrawal request on LB289, said the measure no longer reflected the thinking of a legislative council interim study committee which introduced it.

Proponents of the bill had contended the measure simply clarified the review board's authority, but opponents held that the bill really extended considerably the board's powers.

Senators, Businessmen Talk Taxes

About a dozen state senators lunched Thursday with five businessmen in a continuing series of exploratory meetings on Nebraska's tax system.

Another luncheon will be held next Monday, Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said.

All senators have either participated in meetings with a group of Omaha and Lincoln businessmen or have been invited, Burbach noted.

Four Lincolnites

Attending Thursday's session were four Lincolnites and one Omahan.

They include Keith Knudsen, Western Power and Gas Co.; E. M. "Bud" Hunt, First Nebraska Securities, Inc.; Julian Hopkins, Bankers Life Nebraska; A. W. Griffin, First National Bank and Trust Company of Lincoln, and John Becker of Omaha, associated with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co.

Preliminary discussions continue to center around adoption of a general sales tax or a combination sales-income tax, Burbach said.

Certain personal property taxes, inclduing those on household goods, grain, feed, livestock, machinery and equipment, would be eliminated along with the intangible property tax under such a plan.

Special Session

If agreement were reached in the future, the Legislature could call itself back into special session to place any required constitutional amendments on the 1966 general election ballot, Burbach said.

Twenty-nine senators would need to agree to a special session in order to bring the lawmakers back to Lincoln.

Replacement of some $56,-788,962 in certain personal property taxes and the intangible property tax would require a 3.15% sales tax rate, Burbach said.

Replacement

Replacement of some $43,-468,000 in such taxes (not exempting motor veicles) would require a 2.45% sales tax rate, he said.

A sales tax could be used to replace revenue at the state level and an income tax used to replace local tax revenue, or vice versa, Burbach said.

Some participating businessmen have indicated that their first choice is a sales tax, he noted, with a combination tax standing as second choice. Third would be an income tax alone, he said.

Unicameral Bills To Fit Medicare Quickly Advanced

Two new bills rewriting Nebraska welfare laws in order to qualify for federal assistance under the new Medicare act were introduced in the Legislature Thursday and immediately advanced from general file.

The two measures replace LB935, a bill introduced earlier this week to accomplish the same purpose

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said the two new bills, LB936 and LB937, were drawn after the State Welfare Department received a copy of the medicare act as finally approved.

Their enactment will result in "a savings of state funds," Burbach said. New federal matching formulae under the Medicare act are favorable to the states, he noted.

The bills would become effective on July 1, 1966.

Both measures were advanced without dissent.

Legislature Kills Bill To License Ag Seed Dealers

A late arriving bill which would have licensed seed dealers and forbade them from selling agricultural seed containing noxious weed seed was killed on general file in the Legislature Thursday afternoon.

The measure, LB929, called for a $25 licensing fee per dealer.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, whose Revenue Committee introduced the measure, said seed dealers had resisted the bill, claiming innocence in the matter of noxious weed spreading, and had offered numerous amendments.

Burbach said it appeared advisable to put off legislation until the next session of the Unicameral and his motion to kill the bill was approved on a voice vote.

Senators, Businessmen Talk Taxes

About a dozen state senators lunched Thursday with five businessmen in a continuing series of exploratory meetings on Nebraska's tax system.

Another luncheon will be held next Monday, Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said.

All senators have either participated in meetings with a group of Omaha and Lincoln businessmen or have been invited, Burbach noted.

Four Lincolnites

Attending Thursday's session were four Lincolnites and one Omahan.

They include Keith Knudsen, Western Power and Gas Co.; E. M. "Bud" Hunt, First Nebraska Securities, Inc.; Julian Hopkins, Bankers Life Nebraska; A. W. Griffin, First National Bank and Trust Company of Lincoln, and John Becker of Omaha, associated with Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co.

Preliminary discussions continue to center around adoption of a general sales tax or a combination sales-income tax, Burbach said.

Certain personal property taxes, inclduing those on household goods, grain, feed, livestock, machinery and equipment, would be eliminated along with the intangible property tax under such a plan.

Special Session

If agreement were reached in the future, the Legislature could call itself back into special session to place any required constitutional amendments on the 1966 general election ballot, Burbach said.

Twenty-nine senators would need to agree to a special session in order to bring the lawmakers back to Lincoln.

Replacement of some $56,788,962 in certain personal property taxes and the intangible property tax would require a 3.15% sales tax rate, Burbach said.

Replacement

Replacement of some $43,468,000 in such taxes (not exempting motor veicles) would require a 2.45% sales tax rate, he said.

A sales tax could be used to replace revenue at the state level and an income tax used to replace local tax revenue, or vice versa, Burbach said.

Some participating businessmen have indicated that their first choice is a sales tax, he noted, with a combination tax standing as second choice. Third would be an income tax alone, he said.

Unicameral Bills To Fit Medicare QuicklyAdvanced

Two new bills rewriting Nebraska welfare laws in order to qualify for federal assistance under the new Medicare act were introduced in the Legislature Thursday and immediately advanced from general file.

The two measures replace LB935, a bill introduced earlier this week to accomplish the same purpose

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton said the two new bills, LB936 and LB937, were drawn after the State Welfare Department received a copy of the medicare act as finally approved.

Their enactment will result in "a savings of state funds," Burbach said. New federal matching formulae under the Medicare act are favorable to the states, he noted.

The bills would become effective on July 1, 1966.

Both measures were advanced without dissent.

Legislature Kills Bill To License Ag Seed Dealers

A late arriving bill which would have licensed seed dealers and forbade them from selling agricultural seed containing noxious weed seed was killed on general file in the Legislature Thursday afternoon.

The measure, LB929, called for a $25 licensing fee per dealer.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, whose Revenue Committee introduced the measure, said seed dealers had resisted the bill, claiming innocence in the matter of noxious weed spreading, and had offered numerous amendments.

Burbach said it appeared advisable to put off legislation until the next session of the Unicameral and his motion to kill the bill was approved on a voice vote.

Pressure Not Used —Goodyear

Washington (UPI) — Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. denied Thursday it pressured a competitor into canceling plans to build two synthetic rubber plants for Communist Romania.

Sen. S. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said July 25 that Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. had called off negotiations to build the plants because of "unusual competitive pressures" and a "nuisance boycott campaign by an extremist political organization."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee accused Goodyear of distributing "right wing" material to its salesmen in its campaign against Firestone. He also said Goodyear earlier had obtained an export license to export synthetic rubber to Romania, but "suddenly got religion and grandly refused to traffic with the red heathen."

In its employe publication, "The Wingfoot Clan," Goodyear said Thursday Fulbright "did not have all the facts." It denied doing anything within the trade to influence Firestone's action.

Goodyear said its Beaumont, Tex., plant was visited by Romanian officials June 9, 1964, where they got a casual look at the manufacture of polysioprene rubber, "considered one of the free world's manufacturing secrets."

During the tour, Goodyear said, the Romanians asked for samples of the rubber. To comply with the request, Goodyear said, it was granted an export license, which it said never was actually used.

Goodyear also said that on Oct. 1, 1964, it advised the State Department that it had no desire to build a Romanian rubber plant because the company did not believe such information should be made available to Communist nations.

SINATRA, MIA STROLL

Singer Frank Sinatra, 49, and TV actress Mia Farrow, 19, strolled on the deck of the luxury yacht Southern Breeze in the Edgartown, Mass., harbor Thursday. Amid rumors Sinatra was about to marry Miss Farrow, the couple is vacationing in the New England waters. A crowd of other Hollywood celebrities is also on the yacht.

Education Department Dividing Federal Funds

Dr. Floyd A. Miller, state education commissioner, said Thursday a determination is underway on how to split Nebraska's share of funds under a major title of the new federal aid to education act.

Miller said State Education Department officials are working with figures from the federal census bureau to determine how much money will be available to individual Nebraska school districts.

Nebraska stands to receive $6.7 million under title one of the act. The money is earmarked for programs for educationally-deprived children between 5 and 17.

Number Basis

The funds will be allocated on the basis of the number of children in the districts who come from families with an annual income of less than $2,000.

The government estimates about 35,000 Nebraska elementary and secondary school children are in this category.

But Miller noted that programs under Title One of the sweeping act will be available to all educationally handicapped children in a district, regardless of their family's income.

The income factor is used to split the funds, he said, on the assumption there is a high correlation between poverty and educational deprivation.

Ten Students

Miller said a number of rural elementary districts will not qualify for funds because they do not have 10 or more students from low-income families.

"In fact," he said, "Look at the number of districts that don't even have 10 children."

He also predicted that some qualified districts would choose not to take part in the program.

Miller said the district-by-district allocation would be completed by mid-September, when a statewide meeting of school officials is planned in Lincoln.

Acquaint Nebraskans

The purpose of the gathering is to further acquaint Nebraska educators with all aspects of the federal program.

Miller said the districts with the largest number of economically handicapped children will receive the most funds under Title One, but added that even small kindergarten through twelfth grade districts would qualify for enough money for programs such as remedial reading.

Nebraska's total allocation under the act for this fiscal year is about $8.6 million.

Other titles of the act, Miller said, will provide funds for library improvement, supplemental education centers, research, and to beef up the State Education Department.

State Roads Department Opens Bids

The State Roads Department opened bids Thursday on three major segments of Interstate 80 in the Aurora area.

The projects call for paving, bridge building and other work on the 19 miles from Phillips to Hampton.

In September, the department plans to open bids on the last segment of the Interstate between downtown Omaha and North Platte that is not completed, under construction or under contract.

This is a four-mile link between Hampton and Henderson.

The Interstate work included in Thursday's bid opening was separated into projects between Phillips and Giltner, Giltner and Aurora, and Aurora and Hampton. All the projects are in Hamilton County.

The Interstate projects were part of the bid opening that included 31 projects with a total estimated cost of $7.8 million. Of the total cost, about $5.8 million will come from federal-aid Interstate highway funds.

The department will announce results of the bidding Friday.

Roys Chosen

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)—Perry F. Roys, 43, of Omaha, Neb., area development manager for the Northern Natural Gas Co., has been appointed regional development director of the Greater Buffalo Development Foundation, it was announced Thursday.

Saturn Test Firing Success

Huntsville, Ala. (AP)—A huge Saturn V booster rocket, its five engines roaring like a caged animal, was successfully test fired Thursday in a spectacular 2½-minute display of the power which will launch American astronauts toward the moon.

The goliath 12-story booster, a 4.4-ton test model, gave space scientists here their first extended look at the vehicle which will be the workhorse for the Apollo moon project and space exploration for at least a decade.

Two and a half minutes is the same amount of time that a flight version of the booster, the S-IC-I, will be fired in sending this nation's astronauts on a lunar expedition by early 1970.

Big was the only way to describe the firing. The booster's monstrous F-1 engines, each consuming liquid oxygen and kerosene fuel at the rate of three tons a second, sent out a solid sheet of flame and smoke hundreds of feet toward the blue sky.

The test model was strapped inside a $37 million, 25-story stand made of reinforced steel and concrete. Tons of water were poured into a trough at the bottom of the test stand to hold down the heat.

The five engines generated 7.5 million pounds of thrust.

NASA officials said a flight version of the booster will be launched in the first quarter of 1967. But then it will have to push two added stages which together form the Saturn V.

The Saturn V will weigh more than six million pounds. The booster itself is capable of placing a payload of more than 250,000 pounds into Earth orbit or sending about 95,000 pounds to the Moon.

It is the world's largest known booster.

Senate Approves Plan For Reviewing Base Closings

Washington (UPI) — The Senate gave final congressional approval Thursday to a compromise procedure for legislative review of Defense Department base-closing orders. It was contained in a $1.8 billion military construction bill.

The bill now goes to the President. Final Senate action came by voice vote. The House approved the measure Wednesday, 399 to 0.

The House originally had demanded the veto right on Pentagon orders to close military bases. But it unanimously approved a compromise procedure after Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., House Armed Services Committee Chairman, assured members his committee would tolerate no "unilateral dismantling" of essential installations.

McNamara now will be required to submit his closing order lists to Congress within the first four months of each year. After that, none of the affected bases could be closed for 120 days, during which Congress could study the list.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., handling the bill in the Senate, emphasized that the compromise would not apply to bases "previously announced to be closed."

He noted that the $1,780,062,000 bill was $58,710,000 above the amount originally voted by the Senate and $154,865,000 below the original House amount. He said this was a net reduction of $173,106,000 under the President's request.

Stennis said he was satisfied that "not any of the bone or muscle was taken out or left out of our military program."

NU Med College Grant Will Aid Pregnant Women

Omaha (AP)—The University of Nebraska College of Medicine disclosed a five year grant from the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for a new program to prevent mental retardation caused by inadequate prenatal care.

The total cost of the project will be $1,276,000. The Children's Bureau grant is for $934,000, Dr. Warren H. Pearse, chairman of the department of obstetrics and gynecology, said one of the major causes of mental retardation, and one of the few that can be prevented is the lack of proper care given pregnant women.

He said about 16% of the mothers who come to University Hospital to deliver babies have had no prenatal care and about 60% have had inadequate care.

The Lincoln Post Office handled almost 13,000,000 pieces of mail between June 19 and July 16 of this year. This figure, according to postmaster Kenneth Lewis, is a 19.1% increase over a corresponding period last year.

Postal receipts during the period were up 11.9% over 1964.

Postal savings deposits and money orders decreased.

Pressure Not Used —Goodyear

Washington (UPI) — Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. denied Thursday it pressured a competitor into canceling plans to build two synthetic rubber plants for Communist Romania.

Sen. S. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said July 25 that Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. had called off negotiations to build the plants because of "unusual competitive pressures" and a "nuisance boycott campaign by an extremist political organization."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee accused Goodyear of distributing "right wing" material to its salesmen in its campaign against Firestone. He also said Goodyear earlier had obtained an export license to export synthetic rubber to Romania, but "suddenly got religion and grandly refused to traffic with the red heathen."

In its employe publication, "The Wingfoot Clan," Goodyear said Thursday Fulbright "did not have all the facts." It denied doing anything within the trade to influence Firestone's action.

Goodyear said its Beaumont, Tex., plant was visited by Romanian officials June 9, 1964, where they got a casual look at the manufacture of polysioprene rubber, "considered one of the free world's manufacturing secrets."

During the tour, Goodyear said, the Romanians asked for samples of the rubber. To comply with the request, Goodyear said, it was granted an export license, which it said never was actually used.

Goodyear also said that on Oct. 1, 1964, it advised the State Department that it had no desire to build a Romanian rubber plant because the company did not believe such information should be made available to Communist nations.

Education Department Dividing Federal Funds

Dr. Floyd A. Miller, state education commissioner, said Thursday a determination is underway on how to split Nebraska's share of funds under a major title of the new federal aid to education act.

Miller said State Education Department officials are working with figures from the federal census bureau to determine how much money will be available to individual Nebraska school districts.

Nebraska stands to receive $6.7 million under title one of the act. The money is earmarked for programs for educationally-deprived children between 5 and 17.

Number Basis

The funds will be allocated on the basis of the number of children in the districts who come from families with an annual income of less than $2,000.

The government estimates about 35,000 Nebraska elementary and secondary school children are in this category.

But Miller noted that programs under Title One of the sweeping act will be available to all educationally handicapped children in a district, regardless of their family's income.

The income factor is used to split the funds, he said, on the assumption there is a high correlation between poverty and educational deprivation.

Ten Students

Miller said a number of rural elementary districts will not qualify for funds because they do not have 10 or more students from low-income families.

"In fact," he said, "Look at the number of districts that don't even have 10 children."

He also predicted that some qualified districts would choose not to take part in the program.

Miller said the district-by-district allocation would be completed by mid-September, when a statewide meeting of school officials is planned in Lincoln.

Acquaint Nebraskans

The purpose of the gathering is to further acquaint Nebraska educators with all aspects of the federal program.

Miller said the districts with the largest number of economically handicapped children will receive the most funds under Title One, but added that even small kindergarten through twelfth grade districts would qualify for enough money for programs such as remedial reading.

Nebraska's total allocation under the act for this fiscal year is about $8.6 million.

Other titles of the act, Miller said, will provide funds for library improvement, supplemental education centers, research, and to beef up the State Education Department.

State Roads Department Opens Bids

The State Roads Department opened bids Thursday on three major segments of Interstate 80 in the Aurora area.

The projects call for paving, bridge building and other work on the 19 miles from Phillips to Hampton.

In September, the department plans to open bids on the last segment of the Interstate between downtown Omaha and North Platte that is not completed, under construction or under contract.

This is a four-mile link between Hampton and Henderson.

The Interstate work included in Thursday's bid opening was separated into projects between Phillips and Giltner, Giltner and Aurora, and Aurora and Hampton. All the projects are in Hamilton County.

The Interstate projects were part of the bid opening that included 31 projects with a total estimated cost of $7.8 million. Of the total cost, about $5.8 million will come from federal-aid Interstate highway funds.

The department will announce results of the bidding Friday.

Saturn Test Firing Success

Huntsville, Ala. (AP)—A huge Saturn V booster rocket, its five engines roaring like a caged animal, was successfully test fired Thursday in a spectacular 2½-minute display of the power which will launch American astronauts toward the moon.

The goliath 12-story booster, a 4.4-ton test model, gave space scientists here their first extended look at the vehicle which will be the workhorse for the Apollo moon project and space exploration for at least a decade.

Two and a half minutes is the same amount of time that a flight version of the booster, the S-IC-I, will be fired in sending this nation's astronauts on a lunar expedition by early 1970.

Big was the only way to describe the firing. The booster's monstrous F-1 engines, each consuming liquid oxygen and kerosene fuel at the rate of three tons a second, sent out a solid sheet of flame and smoke hundreds of feet toward the blue sky.

The test model was strapped inside a $37 million, 25-story stand made of reinforced steel and concrete. Tons of water were poured into a trough at the bottom of the test stand to hold down the heat.

The five engines generated 7.5 million pounds of thrust.

NASA officials said a flight version of the booster will be launched in the first quarter of 1967. But then it will have to push two added stages which together form the Saturn V.

The Saturn V will weigh more than six million pounds. The booster itself is capable of placing a payload of more than 250,000 pounds into Earth orbit or sending about 95,000 pounds to the Moon.

It is the world's largest known booster.

Senate Approves Plan For Reviewing Base Closings

Washington (UPI) — The Senate gave final congressional approval Thursday to a compromise procedure for legislative review of Defense Department base-closing orders. It was contained in a $1.8 billion military construction bill.

The bill now goes to the President. Final Senate action came by voice vote. The House approved the measure Wednesday, 399 to 0.

The House originally had demanded the veto right on Pentagon orders to close military bases. But it unanimously approved a compromise procedure after Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., House Armed Services Committee Chairman, assured members his committee would tolerate no "unilateral dismantling" of essential installations.

McNamara now will be required to submit his closing order lists to Congress within the first four months of each year. After that, none of the affected bases could be closed for 120 days, during which Congress could study the list.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., handling the bill in the Senate, emphasized that the compromise would not apply to bases "previously announced to be closed."

He noted that the $1,780,062,000 bill was $58,710,000 above the amount originally voted by the Senate and $154,865,000 below the original House amount. He said this was a net reduction of $173,106,000 under the President's request.

Stennis said he was satisfied that "not any of the bone or muscle was taken out or left out of our military program."

NU Med College Grant Will Aid Pregnant Women

Omaha (AP)—The University of Nebraska College of Medicine disclosed a five year grant from the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for a new program to prevent mental retardation caused by inadequate prenatal care.

The total cost of the project will be $1,276,000. The Children's Bureau grant is for $934,000, Dr. Warren H. Pearse, chairman of the department of obstetrics and gynecology, said one of the major causes of mental retardation, and one of the few that can be prevented is the lack of proper care given pregnant women.

He said about 16% of the mothers who come to University Hospital to deliver babies have had no prenatal care and about 60% have had inadequate care.

Post Office Mail Handling Higher

The Lincoln Post Office handled almost 13,000,000 pieces of mail between June 19 and July 16 of this year. This figure, according to postmaster Kenneth Lewis, is a 19.1% increase over a corresponding period last year.

Postal receipts during the period were up 11.9% over 1964.

Postal savings deposits and money orders decreased.

Gold Mining Stocks Rise; Mart Mixed

New York (AP)—Gold mining issues advanced Thursday as the stock market broke off a string of daily gains in a mixed performance. Trading was moderately active.

The gold stocks spurted following news of a jump in the price of gold in the London bullion market to the highest since November 1961.

The rush to gold in London was triggered by rumors of devaluation of the British pound. The rumors were denied officially.

On the stock market, none of the popular averages rose Thursday but there were actually more issues rising than falling.

Aside from the gold mining stocks, some other natural resource issues and defense-oriented stocks were among the gainers. The list as a whole, however, was a shade soft.

The Dow Jones industrial average sank 2.25 to 881.03 but Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, which represents 85 per cent of the value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, closed unchanged at 85.79.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 at 327.9 with industrials off .7, rails off .4 and utilities off .2.

Of 1,339 issues traded, 575 advanced and 462 declined. New highs for the year totaled 36 and new lows 20.

Volume of 4.92 million shares compared with 4.82 million Wednesday.

Many of the market wheelhorses which pull a lot of weight in the averages were among the losers, hence the contradiction between the over-all market statistics and the averages.

For example, Du Pont lost 1¾, Standard Oil of New Jersey ¾, Goodyear ¾, General Motors ¼, U.S. Steel ¼, New York Central ⅝, Kennecott ½ and Chrysler ⅝.

Among lesser stocks, however, an uptrend was evident in the list of 16 most active stocks.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Property To Be Held By Carroll To Find Owner

Lancaster County Judge Ralph Slocum Thursday signed an order that all property seized by warrant from the dwelling of William D. Marshall which has not been returned to owners be held by Chief of Police Joseph Carroll for 30 days for purposes of determining ownership.

Marshall, who has been sentenced to three years in the Nebraska Penal Complex plus an additional year for a brief escape while enroute from the County Jail for sentencing, was arrested June 22 in connection with some $10,000 worth of merchandise found in a house he occupied at 4920 Ginny.

Judge Slocum's order stated that if the items held by Carroll had not been identified within the 30 days that they were to be disposed of according to law.

Congress Panel Meets On Hallam Reactor's Fate

Washington (AP) — The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee met Thursday with Atomic Energy Commission members, representative of the Hallam, Neb., nuclear reactor facility and manufacturer representatives for a discussion of the reactor.

The reactor, a cooperative effort of the AEC and Consumers Public Power District of Nebraska, was closed down when leakage permitted sodium coolant to get into graphite moderator containers.

A committee staff member said after the closed meeting there would be no announcement Thursday. A committee member told a reporter the AEC is expected to issue a statement regarding the reactor soon.

Applicants for the charter are W. Ed Ceblentz and D. L. Sommerhalder of Aurora.

There was no opposition to the application.

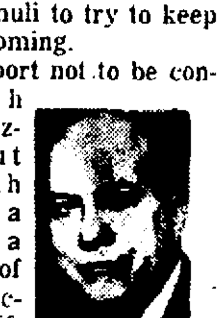
EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Economists Seeking Stimuli To Keep Business Booming

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

The political "economic managers" at Washington are seeking stimuli to try to keep business booming.



Rukeyser

They purport not to be concerned with recession hazards, but rather with the risk of a "stall" at a high level of business activity. Specifically, they recognize the possibility that the abnormally high rate of increase in business volume of 5% a year may slough off, and the annual increment may slump to 3% or even 2%.

Satisfaction, of course, is the ratio between what you expect and what you get.

Even the planners who are eager to bull or stimulate the economic picture recognize that the tempo of such factors as buying new automobiles may be difficult to sustain.

The official manipulators according have been exploring ways and means of a shot in the arm.

One took the form of the excise tax cuts, giving more spendable income to the people.

Second Stimulus

A second stimulus inheres in the fact that some of the benefits of the big Medicare bill will start September 1st, although the offsetting increases in payroll taxes will not take place until 1966.

A third contingency, not to be cynically regarded as a device for boosting business, is the increasing of U.S. military activity in South Viet Nam. Monthly draft calls will be doubled, and inevitably government spending will be accordingly expanded.

Walter E. Heller, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, in a recent speech at Minneapolis, expressed the view that an increase of as much as $3 billion a year to meet the South Viet Nam situation would not "heat up" the economy. By this, he expressed the opinion that the newly projected increases would not touch off a fresh spiral of inflation.

His appraisal is mentioned because of his closeness to economic planning by the Johnson administration. Certainly the net impact of added federal spending at this juncture will be a stimulant rather than a short term depressant.

With some manpower unemployed and industry pacing itself below theoretical capacity, there is some leeway for further potential expansion. The risk element is whether business executives and consumers will continue to act normally, and not seek to beat the gun by accumulating excessive inventories.

Outmoded Restrictions

The newest move of the domestic airlines to escape from outmoded restrictions on the weight of baggage of passengers is a step forward.

Originally when the industry was in its infancy and when planes were small and had limited weight capacity, the custom started of weighing passengers and luggage to obviate overloading of planes.

When the technology changed, the airlines, with CAB approval, stopped weighing passengers but continued to charge overweight by baggage in excess of 40 pounds. This cultural lag was a concealed method of getting revenue.

Obviously, if the airline loaded a 200 pound husband and a 100 pound wife, without putting them on the scales, it was not worrying about safety in respect to excessive weight.

Furthermore, it was absurd to give the same allowance to the short term traveller from New York to Washington as the vacationist making a transcontinental trip.

In the proposed new domestic airline baggage policy, the passenger is permitted to bring a three suiter and a two suiter case, as well as a brief-case.

This is a move toward the coming of age of air travel—as a major instrument in public intercity conveyance of passengers. While air carriers, buses and trains are competing for favor, the overwhelming bulk of intercity travel is by private automobile.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be please to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Gold Mining Stocks Rise; Mart Mixed

New York (AP)—Gold mining issues advanced Thursday as the stock market broke off a string of daily gains in a mixed performance. Trading was moderately active.

The gold stocks spurted following news of a jump in the price of gold in the London bullion market to the highest since November 1961.

The rush to gold in London was triggered by rumors of devaluation of the British pound. The rumors were denied officially.

On the stock market, none of the popular averages rose Thursday but there were actually more issues rising than falling.

Aside from the gold mining stocks, some other natural resource issues and defense-related stocks were among the gainers. The list as a whole, however, was a crazy quilt.

The Dow Jones industrial average sank 2.25 to 881.63 but Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, which represents 85 per cent of the value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, closed unchanged at 85.79.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 at 327.9 with industrials off .7, rails off .4 and utilities off .2.

Of 1,339 issues traded, 575 advanced and 492 declined. New highs for the year totaled 36 and new lows 20.

Volume of 4.92 million shares compared with 4.82 million Wednesday.

Many of the market wheelhorses which pull a lot of weight in the averages were among the losers, hence the contradiction between the over-all market statistics and the averages.

For example, Du Pont lost ⅞, Standard Oil of New Jersey ¼, Goodyear ¼, General Motors ¼, U.S. Steel ¼, New York Central ⅝, Kennecott ½ and Chrysler ⅜.

Among lesser stocks, however, an uptrend was evident in the list of 16 most active stocks.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Congress Panel Meets On Hallam Reactor's Fate

Washington (AP) — The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee met Thursday with Atomic Energy Commission members, representative of the Hallam, Neb., nuclear reactor facility and manufacturer representatives for a discussion of the reactor.

The reactor, a cooperative effort of the AEC and Consumers Public Power District of Nebraska, was closed down when leakage permitted sodium coolant to get into graphite moderator containers.

A committee staff member said after the closed meeting there would be no announcement Thursday. A committee member told a reporter the AEC is expected to issue a statement regarding the reactor soon.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Economists Seeking Stimuli To Keep Business Booming

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

The political "economic managers" at Washington are seeking stimuli to try to keep business booming.

Rukeyser

They purport not to be concerned with recession hazards, but rather with the risk of a "stall" at a high level of business activity. Specifically, they recognize the possibility that the abnormally high rate of increase in business volume of 5% a year may slough off, and the annual increment may slump to 3% or even 2%.

Satisfaction, of course, is the ratio between what you expect and what you get.

Even the planners who are eager to bull or stimulate the economic picture recognize that the tempo of such factors as buying new automobiles may be difficult to sustain.

The official manipulators according have been exploring ways and means of a shot in the arm.

One took the form of the excise tax cuts, giving more spendable income to the people.

Second Stimulus

A second stimulus inheres in the fact that some of the benefits of the big Medicare bill will start September 1st, although the offsetting increases in payroll taxes will not take place until 1966.

A third contingency, not to be cynically regarded as a device for boosting business, is the increasing of U.S. military activity in South Viet Nam. Monthly draft calls will be doubled, and inevitably government spending will be accordingly expanded.

Walter E. Heller, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, in a recent speech at Minneapolis, expressed the view that an increase of as much as $3 billion a year to meet the South Viet Nam situation would not "heat up" the economy. By this, he expressed the opinion that the newly projected increases would not touch off a fresh spiral of inflation.

His appraisal is mentioned because of his closeness to economic planning by the Johnson administration. Certainly the net impact of added federal spending at this juncture will be a stimulant rather than a short term depressant.

With some manpower unemployed and industry pacing itself below theoretical capacity, there is some leeway for further potential expansion. The risk element is whether business executives and consumers will continue to act normally, and not seek to beat the gun by accumulating excessive inventories.

Outmoded Restrictions

The newest move of the domestic airlines to escape from outmoded restrictions on the weight of baggage of passengers is a step forward.

Originally when the industry was in its infancy and when planes were small and had limited weight capacity, the custom started of weighing passengers and luggage to obviate overloading of planes.

When the technology changed, the airlines, with CAB approval, stopped weighing passengers but continued to charge overweight by baggage in excess of 40 pounds. This cultural lag was a concealed method of getting revenue.

Obviously, if the airline loaded a 200 pound husband and a 100 pound wife, without putting them on the scales, it was not worrying about safety in respect to excessive weight.

Furthermore, it was absurd to give the same allowance to the short term traveller from New York to Washington as the vacationist making a transcontinental trip.

In the proposed new domestic airline baggage policy, the passenger is permitted to bring a three suiter and a two suiter case, as well as a briefcase.

This is a move toward the coming of age of air travel—as a major instrument in public intercity conveyance of passengers. While air carriers, buses and trains are competing for favor, the overwhelming bulk of intercity travel is by private automobile.

ORDINANCE NO. 8785

AN ORDINANCE amending Chapter 20.08 of the Lincoln Municipal Code, relating to the enforcement of the Building Code of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska; and repealing said Chapter 20.08 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Chapter 20.08 of the Lincoln Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Chapter 20.08
ENFORCEMENT

20.08.010. BUILDING INSPECTION DIVISION. The Building Inspection Division shall be under the immediate jurisdiction and supervision of the Building Official designated by the Mayor.

Whenever the words "Building Official" are used in this Code, they mean the duly appointed Superintendent of Building Inspections as designated in Section 2.21.020 of the Lincoln Municipal Code or his duly appointed inspectors.

20.08.020. BUILDING OFFICIAL—Records and Reports.—Duties. The Building Official shall submit a report not less than once a year, covering the work of the Division during the preceding period. He shall incorporate in said report a summary of his recommendations as to desirable amendments to this code.

The Building Official shall keep a permanent, accurate account of all fees and other monies collected and received under this code, the names of the persons upon whose account the same are paid, the date and amount thereof, together with the location of the building or premises to which they relate.

Upon presentation of proper credentials the Building Official or his duly authorized representatives may enter at reasonable times any building, structure, or premises in the city to perform any duty imposed upon him by this code.

20.08.030. POWER TO SUSPEND WORK. Whenever any building work is being done contrary to the provisions of this code, the Building Official may order the work stopped by notice in writing served on any persons engaged in the doing or causing such work to be done, and any such persons shall forthwith stop such work until authorized by the Building Official to proceed with the work.

20.08.040. POWER TO VACATE BUILDING. Whenever any structure is being used contrary to the provisions of this code, the Building Official may order such use discontinued and the structure, or portion thereof, vacated by notice served on any person causing such use to be continued. Such person shall discontinue the use within 10 days after receipt of such notice or make the structure, or portion thereof, comply with the requirements of this code; provided, however, that in the event of an unsafe building, Section 20.08.090 shall apply.

20.08.050. BUILDING OFFICIAL, LIABILITY FOR ACTS. The Building Official or any employee charged with the enforcement of this code, acting in good faith and without malice for the city in the discharge of his duties, shall not thereby render himself liable personally and he is hereby relieved from all personal liability for any damage that may accrue to persons or property as a result of any act required or by reason of any act or omission in the discharge of his duties. Any suit brought against the Building Official or employee, because of such act or omission performed by him in the enforcement of any provisions of this Code, shall be defended by the City Attorney until final termination of the proceedings.

20.08.060. ASSISTANCE FROM OTHER OFFICIALS. The Building Official may request, and shall receive so far as may be necessary in the discharge of his duties, the assistance and cooperation of other officials of the city.

20.08.070. UNSAFE BUILDINGS. Whenever any building structure, or portion thereof, in the City of Lincoln violates any provision of this code because of the removal, deterioration, or the failure of any part, appliance, device, or requirement originally required by this code, or which has become damaged by fire or by the elements to the extent of fifty per cent of its value, or by reason of age, dilapidated condition or other cause is unsafe, dangerous, or prejudicial to the health or public safety, or is in such a condition to be a nuisance, the Building Official or his inspectors, shall forthwith inspect such building, structure, or portion thereof, and shall report in writing, the exact condition of the same to the Mayor of the City of Lincoln. If the Building Official or his inspectors report that said building, structure, or portion thereof, is dangerous or prejudicial to health and public safety, or is in such condition as to be a nuisance, then and in that event, upon receipt of such report the Mayor shall fix a day upon which said report shall be considered by him and direct the Building Official to give the owner, agent, lessee, or person in occupancy or control of said building, structure, or portion thereof and lien holders of record, five days written notice to appear at said hearing, a copy of which notice shall be filed with the City Clerk, to show cause, if any he has, why said building, structure or portion thereof, shall not be repaired, reconstructed, or removed, and the nuisance abated; provided, that if said written notice cannot be personally served upon said party, then the same shall be published for five days prior to said hearing in some newspaper published in the City of Lincoln. If at said hearing the Mayor shall adopt the written report of the Building Official and declare that said building, structure, or portion thereof, a nuisance, he shall direct that the same be repaired, removed or abated by the owner, agent, tenant, lessee, or occupant, as the facts in the case may demand, and shall fix a time upon which such repair, removal, or abatement shall be commenced and a date when the same shall be completed, and the owner or other persons appearing to have an interest in the property shall be notified of the Mayor's decision within five days of the decision by the Building Official by certified mail; and if such owner, agent, tenant, lessee, or occupant of such building shall have failed or refused to complete said repairs, removal or abatement, as the case may be, at the expiration of the date fixed for completion, he shall be deemed a violator of this code and subject to the penalty hereinafter provided; and each day he shall fail to comply with such terms, after the expiration of the date or dates fixed, shall constitute a separate offense.

20.08.080. DANGEROUS BUILDING, FAILURE TO ABATE OR REMOVE. In the event that such owner, agent, tenant, lessee, or occupant of such building shall fail or refuse to comply with the directions of the Mayor for the commencement and completion of any such repairs, removal or abatement, as herein before in the next preceding section provided, then and in that event, at the experation of the date so fixed, for the completion of the same, the Mayor may direct the Building Official to cause said repairs, removal or abatement to be made, either by day labor, contract, or prison labor, at the expense and cost of such owner, agent, tenant, lessee or occupant. The said cost and expense of repairing, removing, or abating such building, structure or portion thereof, shall be and constitutes a lien upon any and all materials obtained by or resulting from such repair, removal or abatement, and the amount of such cost and expense shall, at the expiration of the work be determined at a regular Council meeting by resolution, and assessed as a special assessment against the real estate on which such building, structure, or portion thereof, is located. In the event it is so assessed against the real estate it shall cease to be a lien upon such materials. As long as such lien exists no person shall remove, temper or interfere with any of such materials without the consent of the Building Official or the Mayor. In lieu of making such special assessment, the Mayor may order the materials, upon which the City has a lien sold to realize the cost and expense of such abatement, together with all advertising and sale expense, such sale to be conducted by the Building Official or his inspectors, or any one of them, at public auction on the premises where such materials are located; provided, however, that notice of the time of such meeting of the City Council for making such assessment or for ordering the sale of such materials, and the purpose of such meeting, shall be published once in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the city, at least five days before such meeting of the Council is held, or personal notice may be given in place thereof; and provided further, that if the materials are ordered said by the Mayor, five days notice of the time and place, and terms of sale shall be likewise published. In the event that more is realized from any such sale of materials than is required to reimburse the City for the expense by it incurred, such excess shall be applied to any unpaid taxes assessed against the improvements from which such materials were realized or against the property upon which improvements were located, and any balance over and above such taxes shall be held for the benefit of the persons interested therein as their interest may appear. In the event the sale does not result in a sufficient sum to pay all such costs or expense so incurred by the City of Lincoln, any balance of such cost or expense may be assessed against said real estate in the same manner and upon the same notice as is required herein for the assessment of costs against such real estate in the first instance. Such assessment when levied shall be delinquent five days succeeding the date of passage of the assessment resolution and shall draw interest at the rate provided by law for other delinquent special assessments, and the City Clerk shall certify such assessment to the City Treasurer for collection the same as other special assessments levied by the City Council; provided that, the fact that the City may have made such repairs, or caused the removal of such building or portion thereof, as in this section and the next preceding section provided, shall not relieve such owner, tenant, lessee or occupant from any penalty which has accrued prior to the completion of said repair, removal or abatement under this and the next preceding section, and provided further, that in such cases where immediate and summary action is required in the interest of public safety, the Building Official may proceed under the provisions of Section 20.08.090 of the Lincoln Municipal Code, instead of under the provisions of this section and Section 20.08.070.

20.08.090. EMERGENCY ACTION IN CASE OF UNSAFE BUILDING. Whenever the Building Official or any of his inspectors shall find any building or structure, or part thereof, including any building or structure in the process of erection, in such unsafe condition as to imminently endanger life, limb or property, or imminently unsafe for the purpose for which it is being used, or in immediate danger from fire due to defects in construction, or imminently dangerous for use because of insufficient means of egrees in case of fire, but in such condition that by the immediate application of precautionary measures such danger to life and property may be averted, he has the authority and power, and it is his duty to forthwith notify, in writing, the owner, agent, or person in possession, charge or control of such building or structure, or part thereof and lien holders of record to adopt and put into effect such precautionary measures as may be necessary in order to place such building or structure, or portion thereof, in a safe condition. Such notice shall state briefly the nature of the work required to be done and shall specify the time within which it shall be completed, which time shall be fixed by the Building Official upon taking into consideration the condition of such building or structure and the danger to life or property which results from its unsafe condition.

Whenever the Building Official is unable to find the owner of such building or structure, or portion thereof, or any agent or person in possession, charge or control thereof, and lien holders of record, upon whom notice may be served, he shall forward such notice by registered mail to the owner of record and lien holders of record at their last known addresses, and in addition thereto shall post in a conspicuous place upon such building or structure or portion thereof, at or near its principal entrance a printed notice having thereon in large letters, the following:

"THIS BUILDING IS IN A DANGEROUS CONDITION AND HAS BEEN CONDEMNED BY THE CITY OF LINCOLN."

No person shall remove such notice without the permission of the Building Official.

If the owner, agent, or person in possession, charge or control of such building or structure, or part thereof, shall fail or refuse to place such building, structure or portion thereof, in a safe condition and to adopt such precautionary measures as shall have been specified by the Building Oficial within the time specified, the Mayor may order the Building Official to proceed forthwith with the work specified, and to make the building or structure safe from danger to life or property, and if it cannot be repaired or made safe by the application of precautionary measures, to tear down and demolish such building or structure, or the dangerous part thereof. A statement of the cost of such work shall be transmitted to the City Council, which shall cause the same to be assessed and levied as a lien against the property; provided, that the fact that the City may have made such repairs or caused the removal of such building, structure, or portion thereof, as herein provided, shall not relieve such owner, agent, or person in possession, charge or control of such building, structure, or part thereof, from any penalties which have accrued prior to the completion of said repairs or removal.

No such building or structure shall be occupied or used for any purpose after the Building Official serves notice of its unsafe or dangerous condition until the instructions of the Building Official have been carried out, and no person or persons shall enter any building or structure or part thereof, that has been condemned by the Building Official except for the purpose of making the repairs specified or demolishing or tearing down the structure, or with the permission of the Building Official for for the purpose of protecting the property or contents thereof or removing said contents.

20.08.100. VIOLATION AND PENALTIES. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm or corporation, to erect, construct, enlarge, alter, repair, move, remove, demolish, convert, equip, use or occupy or maintain any building or structure, or any portion of any building or structure, in the City of Lincoln, contrary to or in violation of any provision of this Code, or to cause, permit or suffer the same to be done.

Any person, or persons, violating any of the provisions of this Code shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and each such person shall be deemed guilty of a separate offense for each and every day, or portion thereof, during which any violation of any of the provisions of this Code is committed, continued, or permitted.

20.08.110. CIVIL PROCEEDINGS. Whenever the Building Official is satisfied that any provision of this Code has been violated or is about to be violated, or that any order or direction made in pursuance of this Code has not been carried out, or is being disregarded, and whenever he is satisfied that civil proceedings will lie either for the enforcement of this Code, or to restrain or correct the violation thereof, or to prevent the use or occupancy of any building or structure that is being erected, constructed, enlarged, altered, converted or maintained, in violation of the provisions of this Code, he shall apply to the City Attorney for the purpose of instituting Civil proceedings. Such civil proceedings shall be brought in the name of the city. Nothing in this section and no action taken thereunder, shall be held to exclude such criminal proceedings as may be authorized by this Code or any other law or ordinance in force, or to exempt any person violating this code or any of the said laws, from any penalty which may be incurred."

Section 2. That Chapter 20.08 of the Lincoln Municipal Code as hitherto existing, and all other ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, be and they are hereby repealed.

Section 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.
